Peace Talks Hinted For Cong Also

U.S. Implication Vague And With No Commitment

WASHINGTON (AP — The United States appears to be holding up to the Communists the possibility that representatives of the Viet Cong might be included in their own right in any Vietnamese peace talks.

But the implication is still vague and without government commitment.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk would tell a news conference Wednesday only that "we are prepared to talk about the problem (of peace in Vietnam) without preconditions of any sort from either side."

In fact, Rusk declared the United States is prepared to talk about preconditions if the Communists would prefer that — and obviously in such circumstances the United States would be prepared to consider the issue of Viet Cong representation if the other side raised it.

Some authorities here privately believe if there ever is a Vietnamese conference the representatives of North Vietnam may simply turn up with a delegation from the Viet Cong, announce it is there and challenge the United States in effect to accept the delegation or break up the conference.

The issue has arisen currently because of the U.S. appeal transmitted to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant last Monday by Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg. In his letter, he asked U Thant to do everything possible to get peace talks started.

The letter seemed to give U Thant virtually a blank check on behalf of the United States. It left open the possibility that he might arrange for some direct

Infiltrating Units Hit In Buffer Zone

Missile-Firing Jets Downed Both Red Planes Wednesday

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Long-range U.S. B52 bombers delivered a double blow at Communist strongholds in Vietnam today.

One formation of the heavy bombers flew in from Guam to strike before dawn at Viet Cong bunkers and fortifications in War Zone C about 45 miles northwest of Saigon.

A second wave hit late in the afternoon at infiltrating North Vietnamese troops in the Demilitarized Zone between North and South Vietnam.

Amplifying an earlier report, the U.S. Navy reported that two Phantom Jets from the carrier Kitty Hawk shot down two slow-moving enemy planes with air-to-air missiles over the Gulf of Tonkin Tuesday night and the pilots saw them explode.

An earlier announcement said only that the enemy planes had disappeared from radar detection screens. The announcement today said the planes were detected as they were heading in the direction of the nuclear-powered U.S. cruiser Long Beach but did not say they were trying to attack her.

U.S. authorities also confirmed a report from Washington that 25 to 50 North Korean pilots are in North Vietnam, apparently training North Vietnamese fliers in air warfare.

Accord Seen By Governors In LBJ Plans

President Claims No Personal Feud With Democrats

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson says he and grumbling Democratic governors have no quarrel on personal grounds but simply disagree, at least to some extent, on programs, patronage and politics.

Johnson, conscious of criticisms aimed at him at last week's caucus of Democratic governors at White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., met Wednesday with nine Democratic state executives at the LBJ Ranch, then summoned newsmen and introduced Gov. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa. Hughes was chairman of the West Virginia caucus.

While the chief executive stayed in the background, the Iowa governor said there were serious problems in carrying out some of Johnson's Great Society programs in the states.

But he said the governors, after a "very open and very frank" discussion, were leaving the ranch reinforced "in the complete support of the policies, the principles and the precepts as set forth by the President of the United States and a leader of the free world."

One of those in attendance was Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, who had said last week that unless Johnson changed some policies and re-evaluated the political situation Democrats might well "start all over with a new candidate" in 1968.

Hearnes said nothing during the news conference.

Later, however, he was asked if he was ready to retract his White Sulphur Springs statement.

"I'm not taking it back or reaffirming it," he said. He also stated that he wouldn't say anything in West Virginia that he wouldn't say at the LBJ Ranch.

Johnson conceded that the governors had complaints about

Steelworkers Appeal Court Work Order

1,800 On Strike At Factory Vital To Planes For Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union appealed today a federal judge's order that 1,800 strikers return to work at a Kokomo, Ind., factory vital to manufacture of warplanes for Vietnam.

The Court of Appeals went into immediate hearing on the request.

The return-to-work order was issued Wednesday by U.S. Dist. Judge Leonard P. Walsh, but he delayed its effective time to permit an appeal.

If the order is upheld by the appeals court, the strikers must go back to work for 80 days under provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act while bargaining is resumed.

The factory of Union Carbide Corp., the major U.S. source of a vital metal alloy, has been shut by the strike since Sept. 30.

A presidential board of inquiry, appointed Monday, found that the primary issue in the strike is a union desire for coordinated bargaining by three unions — the United Steelworkers of America, Oil, Chemical & Atomic Workers, and International Chemical Workers — at 13 company plants.

Although the strike has closed 10 other Union Carbide plants, only the Stellite Division at Kokomo makes the vital alloy —

Real Estate Tax Takes Drop Here

The real estate tax rate for the 1966 tax year is lower for East Liverpool, according to the new rate schedule announced by Vincent C. Judge, Columbiana County treasurer at Lisbon.

The rate will be $40.80 per $1,000 valuation, compared with $41.20 in the previous year.

A drop also occurred in the East Liverpool School District from $38.10 to $37.70.

The rates also will be lower in Salem and 20 other districts, but will be higher in 27 of the 49 taxing districts.

TAXES FOR 1966 will be collected in 1967.

Rates range from a high of $44 per $1,000 valuation in Washingtonville, Salem Township, to $30.90 per $1,000 in the Southern Local School district, Wayne Township.

The treasurer said increases are the result of levies or bond issues voted in the individual districts, while decreases result when levies expire and bonded indebtedness is reduced or paid off.

A breakdown of Washingtonville's $44 rate shows 20 cents for the state of Ohio — the Korean Conflict bonus, $4.30 for the county, $26.60 for schools, $1.80 for Salem Township and $11.10 for the village.

The 20 cents for the Korean bonus and the $4.30 for the county are standard for all districts.

Kenneth Bell, county auditor, said the $4.30 includes $2.17 for the general fund, three cents for county debt, 40 cents for the Tuberculosis Clinic and care of patients, 55 cents for child welfare, 30 cents for the Mental Health Clinic, 65 cents for the County Home and 20 cents for the retarded.

Other districts with rates of $40 and more per $1,000 are Leetonia, Salem Township, $42.40; Lisbon, $41.90; Leetonia,

Pope's Yule Message To Urge Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI's annual Christmas message tonight is expected to make another strong plea for peace talks in Vietnam.

As the Vatican completed preparations to broadcast the message around much of the world through its own radio facilities and foreign networks, sources said the Pope was certain to repeat his oft-stated desire that the Asian war be ended.

The Vatican also was making final arrangements for the Pope's historic auto trip to Florence Saturday to celebrate Christmas Eve midnight Mass and demonstrate his sympathy for the flood-stricken center of Renaissance art and science.

In his last peace appeal Dec. 8, the Pope asked that the holiday truces in Vietnam be extended into a lasting armistice.

Pope Paul recorded his Christmas message for radio and television Wednesday at his desk in the private study next to his apartment. Vatican short-wave radio commentators prepared translations in 33 languages, including those of the European Communist countries.

Usually, the pontiff celebrates Christmas Eve midnight Mass in the Sistine Chapel a few yards from his apartment. Pope Paul decided to go to Florence this year to comfort victims of Italy's disastrous November floods and to focus attention on their urgent needs.

He reportedly will deliver in person part of the $1.6 million donated for flood relief by Roman Catholics in other countries.

Yule Closing Asked Of Hancock Taverns

Hancock County Sheriff Joseph Rodak today requested taverns in the county to remain closed Christmas Eve and Christmas in a special observance of the holiday.

The appeal to close from 6 p.m. Dec. 24 to 7 a.m. Dec. 26 has been made in past years, and been observed, he said.

Mrs. Kennedy, Look In Accord

Publishing Firm Ready To Settle Book Dispute

NEW YORK (AP) — The chief counsel for Harper & Row said today the book publishing firm "will be very glad" to settle the Kennedy book controversy with Mrs. John F. Kennedy along the lines of her out-of-court agreement with Look magazine.

Requested deletions and modifications that pertain to the personal life of Mrs. Kennedy and her children will allow Look to publish a four-part serialization of the book, "The Death of a President," as scheduled. The first part of the 80,000-word series will be in the Look issue of Jan. 10.

When informed of the agreement reached Wednesday night, Edward S. Greenbaum, attorney for Harper & Row, said: "Harper & Row will be very glad to make a similar arrangement with Mrs. Kennedy."

Harper & Row officials requested a conference today with Simon H. Rifkind, attorney for Mrs. Kennedy.

Both Mrs. Kennedy and Gardner Cowles, chairman of the board of Cowles Communications, Inc., publishers of Look, issued statements shortly after the agreement was announced.

"I hope," said Cowles "that the controversy between the Kennedy family and Harper & Row will be speedily resolved because Cass Canfield (chairman of the executive committee of Harper & Row) has been extremely helpful in the discussions concerning the serialization."

"The public should not be deprived of the opportunity to read" author William Manchester's manuscript, Cowles added.

Harper & Row plans to come out in book form next April with the 300,000-word story of the assassination of President Kennedy. The firm was not represented at Wednesday's meetings

Tractor-Trailer Crushes Bus

8 School Children Killed, 13 Hurt In Canada Wreck

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Tons of sand spilled from a tractor-trailer onto a school bus loaded with 30 children Wednesday, crushing the bus, killing eight youngsters and injuring 13.

The 10 tons of wet sand cascaded onto the bus as the trailer flipped over after turning a corner and scraping the side of the bus at an intersection near Windsor, a city across the Detroit River from Detroit.

"The kids were yelling their heads off. It was pitiful," said Gerald Gemus, 31, of Oldcastle, Ont. Gemus, who arrived at the scene just after the accident occurred, added, "I hope I never see anything like it again."

Children trapped inside the bus were screaming. Some were pinned under broken seats, others trapped by twisted metal or buried under the sand.

For nearly two hours, Gemus and others — policemen, firemen, doctors ambulance drivers and passersby — tore apart the wreckage with crowbars, acetylene torches and their bare hands.

"We were afraid to use shovels at first, because we might injure some of the kids we couldn't see under the sand," Gemus said.

The tractor-trailer rig was turning a corner when it scrapped the bus, which had

Hanoi Says Raids Killed, Injured Many

MOSCOW, (AP) — The North Vietnamese government said today U.S. air raids in the Hanoi area struck 3.1 to 6.2 miles from the center of the capital, killing or wounding hundreds of persons, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Raids Dec. 13 and 14 stirred an argument wnether American planes had actually bombed Hanoi or only the outskirts. The targets were an outlying truck park and a railroad yard. The U.S. Command in Saigon said all bombs were on target.

Widespread Communist and neutralist denunciations of the raids were made on the assumption that the city itself had been hit, but U.S. officials denied this. They suggested that defensive fire of shells and antiaircraft rockets might have fallen back into the city, causing the reported destruction and deaths. This possibility was denied in Hanoi.

Tass said in a dispatch from Hanoi that the head of the North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry's press department held a news conference on the raids.

Tractor-Trailer Crushes Bus

8 School Children Killed, 13 Hurt In Canada Wreck

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Tons of sand spilled from a tractor-trailer onto a school bus loaded with 30 children Wednesday, crushing the bus, killing eight youngsters and injuring 13.

The 10 tons of wet sand cascaded onto the bus as the trailer flipped over after turning a corner and scraping the side of the bus at an intersection near Windsor, a city across the Detroit River from Detroit.

"The kids were yelling their heads off. It was pitiful," said Gerald Gemus, 31, of Oldcastle, Ont. Gemus, who arrived at the scene just after the accident occurred, added, "I hope I never see anything like it again."

Children trapped inside the bus were screaming. Some were pinned under broken seats, others trapped by twisted metal or buried under the sand.

For nearly two hours, Gemus and others — policemen, firemen, doctors ambulance drivers and passersby — tore apart the wreckage with crowbars, acetylene torches and their bare hands.

"We were afraid to use shovels at first, because we might injure some of the kids we couldn't see under the sand," Gemus said.

The tractor-trailer rig was turning a corner when it scrapped the bus, which had

Driver Takes Break, Then Thief Takes Car

A North Side man took a three-minute break this morning to buy a package of cigarettes at a downtown newsstand leaving his auto parked with the motor idling.

A thief who apparently acted on the spur of the moment drove away in the auto, police said.

Charles H. Hobbs of 927 Montgomery Ave. told Patrolman William A. Devon he parked the 1965 model Plymouth two-door sedan on Broadway at 7:35. When he returned at 7:38, it was gone.

He said ruefully he had just filled the gasoline tank a few minutes earlier. The auto carries Ohio license L-927-F, he told police.

Aliens Reminded Of Report Dates

Thomas M. Pederson, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, reminded today that aliens in the United States will be required to report their addresses to the attorney general within the near future.

All aliens, with few exceptions, who are in the U.S. on Jan. 1 each year, must report their addresses by the end of that month.

Only the following classes of aliens are excused from this requirement: accredited diplomats and persons accredited to certain international organizations.

Forms with which to make the report can be obtained from any post office or Immigration and Naturalization Service office during January.

Pederson reminded that the law provides severe penalties for failure to comply with the reporting requirement.

Auditor Gets Another Anonymous Yule Card

For the second consecutive year, the Post Office Department has delivered unerringly to Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger at City Hall a Christmas card addressed: "Jolly Zolly, By Golly, City Holly."

Zollinger was intrigued when he received a card in 1965 with the rhyming address. Another addressed in the same way turned up for him today at City Hall. It was signed "You Know Who."

But Zollinger says he doesn't know, although he's trying to recognize the handwriting.

"Maybe it's from Santa Claus!" he said wistfully.

Perpetual War Formula

The United States first learned in Korea what it is to fight a limited war.

Now it is learning the lesson all over again in Vietnam.

And the experience we have gained in both wars has not been a happy one.

The Korean war settled nothing. For as long as one can foresee, Americans will have to keep troops in this divided nation to maintain an uneasy peace.

Even if peace were possible in Vietnam, we could not pull out because aggressors are waiting on every side to renew hostilities.

IN THE MILITARY view, limited war is turning out to be a formula for perpetual war.

Any war which is run by politicians is a war that cannot be completely won because it is a war designed to punish aggressors and not necessarily one to break the will of the enemy and achieve outright victory.

When Gen. MacArthur wanted to carry the air war into the sanctuary of Red China during the Korean conflict, he was prevented from doing so and later was removed from his command.

The long-range consequences of this action by President Truman may have hastened the day of a deadlocked truce, but it didn't solve the problem of Peking's continuing threat to world peace and its menacing posture in an angry Asia today.

It is our observation that the men on the fighting fronts would much prefer to fight an all-out war for a quick decision than a limited war of attrition that could and probably will drag on for years.

In fact, commanders of naval units carrying the war into North Vietnam are growing increasingly impatient under restraints laid down by Washington in severely limiting targets. To them it is a "no-win half war."

THE UNITED STATES continues to extend the olive branch. Its request of the U.N. to intercede by attempting to arrange for negotiations to end hostilities is the latest move in the search for peace. It is bound to fail. Hanoi has already said it will have no part of anything involving the U.N.

Everybody applauds any steps that might lead to peace, but constant repetition of our anxiety to negotiate with our combatants in Southeast Asia is bound to be interpreted by the Asiatic mind as a sign of weakness.

We have seen no evidence to the contrary, and the wall of invective thrown up against our every effort to achieve a peaceful solution is strong testimony to the feeling in North Vietnam that ultimately we will tire of our adventure and quietly withdraw.

Built By A Master Craftsman

The human anatomy needs a new press agent.

Whoever is currently handling the account just isn't projecting the proper image for his client.

There's too much talk about the frailty of the body, its delicate and fragile mechanism, its high susceptibility to hazards and ailments.

You get the idea it's in the shop for repairs almost daily.

Not so. Our anatomy is, in fact, so marvelously and ingeniously designed and constructed that nothing else yet devised can come close to it for all-around performance, versatility and durability.

Durable? Then how come so many people perish in accidents?

True, the toll is tragically high. But no one is keeping a record of the far greater number who walk away in one piece or even uninjured from wrecks that have demolished machines of mere iron and steel.

The new man-made miracle fabrics are truly amazing. They drip dry, resist wrinkles and have perpetual creases.

But there's another miracle substance which not only drips dry and resists wrinkles, but has the added advantage of being able to mend itself when torn. It's called skin.

Machinery ? Can you think of a machine as versatile, dexterous and handy as the human finger?

Magic photo lens with living color? The human body has one built in for instantaneous and automatic use. It's the eye.

The human body frail and delicate?

Not in the vast majority of cases. Exposed to increasing perils of space-age living — including whiz-bang traffic, new ailments we never knew existed, air and water pollution and more and more worries and tension, each generation nevertheless lives harder, works faster, plays harder — and lives longer.

So let's not sell the human anatomy short. Let's just treat it halfway considerately and give it a chance to be the incredibly efficient machine it is.

And isn't it wonderful to know we have been put together by a master craftsman ?

In Accord With Acheson

We have not always agreed with former Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson but in his challenge of the basis for sanctions against Rhodesia by the United Nations we are in complete accord.

Mr. Acheson has said that "the threat or use of force against Rhodesia violated the very Charter on which the U.N. was founded."

IN A LETTER to the Washington Post commenting on that newspaper's editorial on the subject of sanctions against Rhodesia, the former secretary wrote:

"Certainly Rhodesia's voting laws and system of popular representation in its legislature are not contrary to any international obligation. The one-man, one-vote deduction from the 14th Amendment is not recognized in international law . . . Indeed, the present system in Rhodesia, broadly speaking, has been in effect and regarded with complacency in Great Britain for nearly half a century . . . This system operates entirely within the boundaries of Rhodesia and affects no one else. In such a situation the U.N Charter is plain.

"Chapter 1, Article 2, paragraph 7 provides unequivocally that the United Nations shall not intervene in matters which are within the internal jurisdiction of any state. . . . Rhodesia, in doing what the U.N. has no jurisdiction to forbid, annoys African members to the point where they may transgress against the First Commandment of the U.N."

Mr. Acheson quoted that commandment from Chapter 1 of the U.N. Charter:

"All members shall refrain in their international relations from the use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence of any state."

Mr. Acheson, who was President Truman's secretary of state from 1949 to 1953, reached this conclusion: ". . . Don't blame Rhodesia, blame the Security Council and Harold Wilson (British prime minister)."

GREAT BRITAIN cannot solve the Rhodesian problem by itself short of using force—a step which it cannot afford to take and which ultimately could lead to a conflagration of menacing proportions.

Worried about its image with 16 other black African nations, Britain is trying to get other and more powerful nations to pull its chestnuts out of the fire. The United States has readily agreed to help, but France and Russia are not interested in making any such commitments and abstained in the U.N. vote.

In the game of chestnut pulling, Britain has seldom, if ever, acted in concert with the U.S. in world matters in which we had at least a self-styled pecuniary interest.

The United Kingdom desperately needs world trade—mainly, at the moment, export trade—and anything that interferes with that is not likely to have Britain's loving embrace.

Same, But Different

WASHINGTON

It looks new, what's been happening, but then it doesn't because a whiff of the past comes through. But underneath it all there is something really new with a deep difference, President Johnson.

Take that tax increase, for instance. Right now Johnson is supposed to be deciding whether to ask Congress for one. Just at this time last year he was trying to decide the same thing. He decided no.

In the past week the Johnson administration began its annual peace attempt, asked U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, to see what he could do about getting peace negotiations on Vietnam started.

The Communist world hooted. Phony, it said. That's what it said last year when Johnson sent peace emissaries around the world. Nothing came of it then, nothing is expected to come of it now.

THEN THERE'S the phrase which irritates Johnson vastly: the "credibility gap." Just about this time last year Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, made a confession: "We have a great problem here maintaining our credibility."

He meant with foreigners and with Americans at home.

These widespread doubts, he explained, deal with whether the United States can be trusted to tell the truth about one or another private peace feeler, with whether its leaders "really are pursuing what has been said is a path of peace."

The story about this was a rumor about a peace feeler from the North Vietnamese Communists. It got all complex and mixed up.

Last week American credibility got involved again when Red China charged that U.S. planes bombed residential areas in Hanoi, the capital of North Vietnam. Government officials here denied it, saying military targets had been bombed.

This came just as the credibility of the Johnson administration in general was being assailed.

But even a thing like the President's operation and recuperation isn't new. On Oct. 8, 1965, he had his gall bladder and a kidney stone removed, then went to his Texas ranch to recuperate. There he prepared his budget and messages for the Congress returning in 1966.

This year, on Nov. 16, he had some minor surgery, went to his Texas ranch to recuperate, and there has been working on his programs for the Congress coming back in 1967.

UP TO THIS point everything looks like the same old thing all over again. But not quite.

When Johnson went to the hospital in October 1965, he had behind him the most miraculous performance in peacetime legislation that any Congress in history had ever achieved. It was a stunning job.

But he had no such luck in 1966 and may never have again. The road was down this year, in influence and in politics.

This is a brand new Johnson. Johnson in these past few months has become a kind of huge puzzle with no one venturing a prediction of what he will do or even what he will be like in the coming year.

Rocky Hosts Party For Labor

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK—It was a princely council which Nelson Aldrich Rockefeller drew about himself and his beef stroganoff the other night.

His companions were men for all seasons and of all pursuits—street cleaning, janitoring, table waiting, building servicing, carpentering, derricking and administering. Some spoke in cultured voices and some had need of a latter day Professor Henry Higgins.

Victor Riesel

They were, in all, leaders of unions who had been invited by telegraph to dine with the Rockefellers at 7 o'clock on the night of Wednesday, Dec. 14, in the governor's own duplex home at 812 Fifth Ave.

It was a gracious gesture, Mr. Rockefeller had wanted to thank the leaders of office employees, professional men, sanitation workers, construction trades people, hospital workers, waiters, motel and hotel unions, among others, for helping him defeat the Democratic party last November.

They were—and are—his friends, albeit newly found. One does not ask one's friends to one's home with morganic disregard for the ladies.

SO IT CAME TO PASS that Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller played host that evening--with an utterly all-conquering appearance of the attractive 2-year-old lad, Nelson Jr.—to some 30 couples. The wives of railroad and office employes union leaders came—and they were gay and chatted with "Happy" as though their husbands were old school chaps together.

There were the Howard Coughlins of Office and Professional Employes Union fame, and the usually bellicose John De Lury, of the Uniformed Sanitarionmen of America (U.S.A.), the Operating Engineers' Dick Nolan and a few old radical such as Jay Rubin of the Hotel and Motel Trades Council and Leon Davis of the daring Hospital Workers.

There was the loner, Harry Van Arsdale, a headline-dodging militant who whipped together Mr. Rockefeller's labor campaign machine.

MR. VAN ARSDALE is best known as "Mr. Four-hour Day," which he vows to win for his electrical construction workers union. And under Gov. Rockefeller he plans to launch an Eastern farm workers unionizing drive which will dwarf that of the West Coast.

The guest list of the "New Society" should be of record, for among those who gently helped himself to beef stroganoff and then strolled into the room with the decidedly enciente Mrs. Rockefeller was the bantering Harold Pryor—he who last spring called a surprise rush hour strike on the Long Island Railroad because his trainmen could not drink beer on the job and the executives did grab a martini at luncheon.

These are militant men. Even as they wandered through the duplex apartment's many splendid rooms some of their followers were striking hundreds of millions of dollars worth of projects or were threatening to tie up strategic municipal services.

THERE WAS NO SHOP TALK. Each room had its host or hostess. Except for the co-mingling of the classes (economic not social) this could have been anyone's Fifth Ave. Cocktail reception and dinner.

Mr. Rockefeller asked nothing of his friends. His was a pleasant and brief speech of welcome—and thanks for past political support.

When the folks left at 10 o'clock, some of them were certain that the recent campaign was not the last in which they would fight alongside of the three-time governor, Nelson Rockefeller.

These are sophisticated men, these union chiefs. They felt certain their friendly host had not spent some $5 million merely to live out his political life in a provincial capital.

They were—and are—in fact convinced that Mr. Rockefeller plans to make a mighty determined effort to win the Republican presidential nomination at the 1968 convention.

There were those among the guests who felt that if this proves impossible, Mr. Rockefeller wants to become the contrifugal force behind the next GOP nominee—in the hopes that the world front would then be opened to him (Rockefeller) as a future secretary of state.

THESE LABOR LEADERS—to whom state dinners, including White House banquets, are no novelty, were happy to break bread and dip into beef stroganoff with "Rocky." He has become their friend.

He deals with them personally right on the hot lines. He was delivered to them. If he runs, many of them will deliver right back.

They are men and women of human equation. They like being wooed. They have been taken for granted for a long time by others.

The oldest and largest national conservation group in North America is the National Audubon Society. Founded in 1905 and named for the great bird artist, John James Audubon, its major purpose is to advance public understanding of the value and need for conservation of soil, water, plants and wildlife and the relation of their intelligent treatment and wise use to human welfare.

Young birds do not require "flying lessons" from their parents. Adult birds may try to lure their full-fledged offspring from the nest, but this merely encourages them to follow their natural flying instinct.

The largest gulf in the world is the Gulf of Mexico, with a shoreline extending from Cape Sable, Florida, to Cabo Catoche, Mexico, of 3,100 miles.

Wyoming's nickname of the "Equality State" derives from the fact that the state was a pioneer in woman suffrage though it was not admitted to the Union until 1890.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

About 700 years before our Saviour Jesus was born, God's chosen people, the Jewish nation, were taken captive by the Babylonians.

Those who had known the privilege of being called the children of God now found themselves in a strange land, among people with a strange language, strange customs, and strange gods.

Jeremiah the prophet had made it plain that this would happen to them because they had continued to disobey God.

THEY WERE NOT, however, to consider their plight hopeless. It is the part of wisdom to do the best we can under the circumstances. That is what God would have the exiles do, and it is what He would have us do.

The captives had been taken beyond the boundaries of their land, but they were not beyond the domain of their God. This is one of the principal truths of Jeremiah's prophecy. There may have been a tendency to feel bitterness when first they were informed that it was God who had caused them to be carried into Babylon.

A bit of reflection, however, might have brought forth feelings of thanksgiving. They could have been taken into slavery under hard and cruel taskmasters. Even worse things could have happened to them. It was their own fault that they had suffered captivity. They had been warned it would come unless they repented. It was by the mercy of God that they were taken to a place where they might yet have a future.

"I KNOW the thoughts that I think toward you," God said, and He would give them an expectation and a hope. Even the land of their captivity could become for them a place of blessing. How much better it was to be in Babylon with God than back in Jerusalem without Him!

One of the blessings of adversity is that it teaches dependence upon God. Not only was this true in the case of God's chosen people when they were in bondage in Babylon, but it is true of us today. Only when we lean completely upon God is He able to shower His richest blessings upon us.

He sent His son Jesus over 1900 years ago that by simple trust in Him we might not perish but have eternal life. God gave to us the most precious gift man can possibly receive. Do we appreciate it? Now as we celebrate the birthday of our wonderful Saviour Jesus may God give us the wisdom to place our trust in Him that we may enjoy Him forever.

Perpetual War Formula

The United States first learned in Korea what it is to fight a limited war.

Now it is learning the lesson all over again in Vietnam.

And the experience we have gained in both wars has not been a happy one.

The Korean war settled nothing. For as long as one can foresee, Americans will have to keep troops in this divided nation to maintain an uneasy peace.

Even if peace were possible in Vietnam, we could not pull out because aggressors are waiting on every side to renew hostilities.

IN THE MILITARY view, limited war is turning out to be a formula for perpetual war.

Any war which is run by politicians is a war that cannot be completely won because it is a war designed to punish aggressors and not necessarily one to break the will of the enemy and achieve outright victory.

When Gen. MacArthur wanted to carry the air war into the sanctuary of Red China during the Korean conflict, he was prevented from doing so and later was removed from his command.

The long-range consequences of this action by President Truman may have hastened the day of a deadlocked truce, but it didn't solve the problem of Peking's continuing threat to world peace and its menacing posture in an angry Asia today.

It is our observation that the men on the fighting fronts would much prefer to fight an all-out war for a quick decision than a limited war of attrition that could and probably will drag on for years.

In fact, commanders of naval units carrying the war into North Vietnam are growing increasingly impatient under restraints laid down by Washington in severely limiting targets. To them it is a "no-win half war."

THE UNITED STATES continues to extend the olive branch. Its request of the U.N. to intercede by attempting to arrange for negotiations to end hostilities is the latest move in the search for peace. It is bound to fail. Hanoi has already said it will have no part of anything involving the U.N.

Everybody applauds any steps that might lead to peace, but constant repetition of our anxiety to negotiate with our combatants in Southeast Asia is bound to be interpreted by the Asiatic mind as a sign of weakness.

We have seen no evidence to the contrary, and the wall of invective thrown up against our every effort to achieve a peaceful solution is strong testimony to the feeling in North Vietnam that ultimately we will tire of our adventure and quietly withdraw.

Built By A Master Craftsman

The human anatomy needs a new press agent.

Whoever is currently handling the account just isn't projecting the proper image for his client.

There's too much talk about the frailty of the body, its delicate and fragile mechanism, its high susceptibility to hazards and ailments.

You get the idea it's in the shop for repairs almost daily.

Not so. Our anatomy is, in fact, so marvelously and ingeniously designed and constructed that nothing else yet devised can come close to it for all-around performance, versatility and durability.

Durable? Then how come so many people perish in accidents?

True, the toll is tragically high. But no one is keeping a record of the far greater number who walk away in one piece or even uninjured from wrecks that have demolished machines of mere iron and steel.

The new man-made miracle fabrics are truly amazing. They drip dry, resist wrinkles and have perpetual creases.

But there's another miracle substance which not only drips dry and resists wrinkles, but has the added advantage of being able to mend itself when torn. It's called skin.

Machinery ? Can you think of a machine as versatile, dexterous and handy as the human finger?

Magic photo lens with living color? The human body has one built in for instantaneous and automatic use. It's the eye.

The human body frail and delicate?

Not in the vast majority of cases. Exposed to increasing perils of space-age living — including whiz-bang traffic, new ailments we never knew existed, air and water pollution and more and more worries and tension, each generation nevertheless lives harder, works faster, plays harder — and lives longer.

So let's not sell the human anatomy short. Let's just treat it halfway considerately and give it a chance to be the incredibly efficient machine it is.

And isn't it wonderful to know we have been put together by a master craftsman ?

Columbia, the female personification of the United States, is usually represented as a tall, stately woman dressed in flowing white robes and wearing a slightly peaked hat with five-pointed stars on it.

Flagstaff, Ariz., was named by lumberjacks celebrating the Fourth of July in 1876, when they nailed a U.S. flag to the top of a tall pine and called the unnamed settlement Flagstaff, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

President Thomas Jefferson kept in a cage on the White House grounds the grizzly bears that Capt. Meriwether Lewis brought back from his 4,000-mile expedition to the west with Clark.

Chimpanzees are at home in trees or on the ground. They forage for fruit, nuts and green shoots and, at nightfall, built leafy nests high in the trees.

Santa Claus Forgotten Man In His Home Town

Bari is still a stronghold of the Befana, the kind-hearted, ugly, old broom-riding witch who used to bring presents to all Italian children. Bari's youngsters still wait for her on the eve of Epiphany, Jan. 6.

The Santa Claus of most of the Western world grew out of the story of San Nicola, the 4th-century bishop of Myra, in Asia Minor, whose body was stolen from the Saracens and brought here by Bari sailors in 1087.

The exultant city proclaimed him its saint and built the gray stone romanesque Basilica of San Nicola in the crowded old quarter of the city.

The church here never emphasized the saint as a bearer of gifts. He was and still is portrayed more as a symbol of the link between the Western and Eastern Christian churches.

The big day for St. Nicholas in Bari comes each year in May, on the anniversary of the day the sailors came back with the saint's body.

A symbolic coffin is taken out to sea and brought into port escorted by the entire flag-decorated fishing fleet. There are feasts and religious ceremonies and street parades.

The children who do know about Santa Claus have no idea of the sleigh and reindeer and the stockings hung by the fireplace. They think the whiskered man in red carries his toys on a pack-laden gray donkey and puts them in shoes left at the foot of the bed.

— Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said the United States should continue bombing North Vietnam until Hanoi responds to appeals for peace talks.

— Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, North Vietnam's defense minister, pledged to fight on until complete victory for the Communists, declaring in Hanoi that the Communists "are determined to fight and are sure to defeat" the Americans.

— The Korean Military Command, in a year-end summary, announced that its troops have killed 5,559 of the enemy and captured 1,529 in the past year. The Korean force of 45,000 men lost 539 killed and 1,442 wounded, the summary said.

U.S. headquarters, in its weekly casualty report, said 88 Americans were killed and 433 wounded in combat last week, compared with 83 killed and 559 wounded the previous week.

Vietnamese headquarters said 190 government soldiers were killed in the week ending last Saturday, compared with 216 the previous week. U.S. headquarters reported 825 enemy killed and 88 captured; the week before the report was 241 killed and 243 captured.

U.S. headquarters also reported American troop strength in Vietnam reached 371,000 men last Saturday, an increase of 3,000 over the previous week. Since Saturday, elements of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division have arrived and the total strength is now close to 375,000 men.

The U.S. Military Command reported scattered small-scale ground fighting in South Vietnam but no major engagements.

American pilots flew 81 bombing missions over North Vietnam Wednesday, and U.S. headquarters said generally poor weather limited most of the strikes to the southern part of the country.

The headquarters said one Navy A4 Skyhawk jet was shot down by ground fire and the pilot is missing. It was the 451st U.S. plane reported downed over North Vietnam in the war.

Today was the eighth day of B52 raids inside or around the Demilitarized Zone. The repeated raids are designed to smash a buildup of North Vietnamese troops who U.S. authorities believe will be sent south.

The targets today, a U.S. spokesman said, were an infiltration route, a supply area and suspected elements of the reorganized 324B North Vietnamese division.

Hoffa Gets 30 More Days To File Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters Union president James R. Hoffa has been granted an additional 30 days—until Feb. 4—to ask the Supreme Court to reconsider its decision upholding his 1964 jury tampering conviction.

Justice Potter Stewart granted the delay Wednesday at the request of Hoffa's attorney. The action apparently means Hoffa will still be free on appeal bond when negotiations of a new union contract begin, probably in mid-January.

Hoffa received an eight-year prison sentence in the 1964 trial.

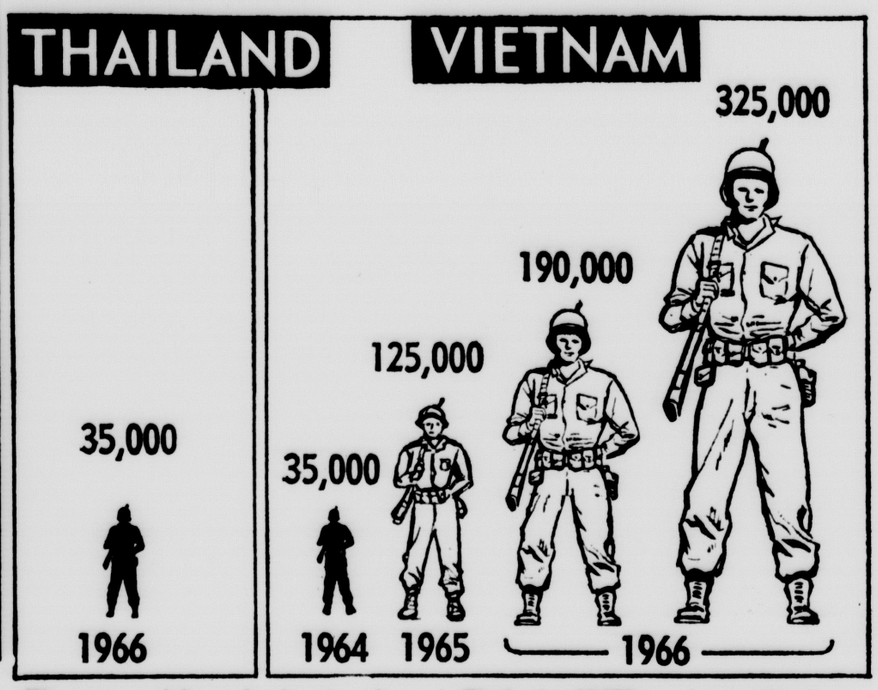
OPERATION THAILAND

Disclosure that U.S. helicopters have aided Thai troops battling Communist guerrillas confirms reports that the U.S. military presence in Thailand is aiding the Thais in their own struggle against Red infiltration as well as supporting operations in Vietnam. Newsmap locates major American bases and site of recent operations. News-Graphic compares U.S. military strength in Thailand and Vietnam.

U.S. helicopters based at Nakhon Phanom have aided Thai forces in several battles near the Sakon Nakhon, one of several areas in the northeast provinces of increasing Communist guerrilla activity during the past year.



The announced figure for American forces in Thailand is 25,000 men but unofficial estimates place it at closer to 35,000, about U.S. troop strength in Vietnam in 1964, before the rapid build-up to 190,000 at the start of this year and 325,000 by the end.

So Says Bob Peterson

'Nation Is Thinking Car'

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—(NEA)—Bob Petersen turned the key in his bright red Dodge Charger, mashed down hard on the accelerator and smiled through two var-rooms.

"It was made up special for me in Detroit," he said. "You couldn't exactly call it stock."

It fits, of course, because there isn't much about Bob Petersen that is stock. He does things differently.

Petersen's business is publishing. Most of his publications deal with automobiles. The better known of his magazines are Hot Rod, Motor Trend, Rod & Custom, Car Craft and Sports Car Graphic.

HE THINKS with the industry and very often he thinks ahead of the industry.

"I suppose," he said, "we've made our presence felt in Detroit. But there's no real way to measure it. It's a nebulous thing because impact, in this case, can be called coincidence or evolution.

"Not long after we began Hot Rod (his first publication) in 1948, I remember we did a critique on a car and said it had bad brakes.

"Well, that manufacturer didn't speak to us for five years, but funny how they put in a brand new brake system the following year.

"Probably the biggest single thing our publications have been able to do is make the car buyer aware of what's coming out of Detroit, how it works and what's in it.

"It used to be that car agencies would swallow Detroit's line and just push cars. They'd tell a customer, 'This superduper eight has a speedo-ultra Z-9 transmission,' and the consumer would say 'Wowee!' and buy the car.

"In the old days these terms meant absolutely nothing. Now the terms attached to car parts do mean something. And I think our publications, and others that have come along, have made the public aware, and wary, of what they're buying and this is good."

Publicity Hot Rod gave to the hot rodders and their automotive ingenuity doubtless spurred Detroit thought, too. Hot rodders have always been big on horsepower. So, suddenly, was Detroit in the early '50s. In this same era Detroit came out with dual carburetion and exhaust systems.

Bob Petersen put out Hot Rod when he was 22, promoting it in Los Angeles with the nation's first hot rod and custom car show. He did it with $400 and now his business, reaching into television, films and auto racing is a multimillion dollar thing.

He has two more publications coming out in 1967 — Wheels Afield, which will deal with camping and travel, and Motorcycle Sport Book, an annual which he hopes may lead to a monthly.

IN RACING, Petersen and his staff came up with the idea of running stock cars on road tracks. He has 15 per cent interest in Riverside (Calif.) International Speedway and first tried the idea there four years ago. It is the newest type of auto racing in the country and its immediate popularity has helped integrate the long-divided road racing and oval racing legions.

Those policymakers in Detroit got a look at Bob Petersen's thinking earlier this year when he presented them with an idea that had them coughing and sputtering at first.

"Would you believe all America's automotive competitors on the same television show?" Petersen said. "We haven't signed the deal but I think they've bought the idea.

"We'll present all or most of the models for 10 companies next fall on an hour TV special. We'll intertwine it with previews of 12 new motion pictures — this for the ladies — so the consumers can get a good look at the new line of cars in one sweep. Magazines do it, so why not television? There'll be some analyzing of cars — which is the touchy part —but mostly it'll be a showing. Still, we can't hedge on this show. I think we've built a reputation on telling it like it is. So I want this show to be right."

Peterson Productions was the producer of Wonderful World of Wheels in a September CBS-TV special.

"The ratings were good. For me it was just more proof that the nation is thinking car," Petersen said, rubbing his crewcut hair and breaking into his boyish grin. "Keep in mind we were bucking Batman and Tarzan."

hastalloy-X — and only this plant would be reopened under an injunction.

The Justice Department pressed for the injunction against the steelworkers' union on grounds that supplies of hastalloy-X will be exhausted by the end of the month, idling jet engine manufacture and possibly resulting in an acute shortage of replacement parts for aircraft in Vietnam.

In ordering the injunction the judge said a substantial part of an industry had been affected by the strike and that it indeed affected the nation's safety.

The government based much of its argument on a statement from Cyrus R. Vance, deputy secretary of defense.

Vance said hastalloy-X, a special high-temperature alloy, is used to fabricate combustion liners for jet engines on the F4 Phantom, RF4 reconnaissance plane and the F104 high altitude fighter.

Vance said the F4 used by the Navy and Air Force "has been assigned to combat operations in Southeast Asia under the highest priority."

Stellite, he added, is the major producer of the alloy.

How Can I?

Q.—How can I make sure of the removal of cosmetic stains from the necklines of dresses I am washing?

A.—A good hair shampoo rubbed into these stained areas before the dresses are put into the washer will leave the fabric clean and fresh-looking when it finally emerges.

Q.—How can I keep cream from curdling?

A.—If the sweetness of cream seems doubtful, stir a pinch of seems doutful, stir a pinch of baking soda into it. This prevents curdling, even in hot coffee.

Q. — How can I remove bloodstains from washable and unwashable materials?

A. — Washables should be soaked or rubbed with cold water, then washed in household ammonia, or two cups of salt to each gallon of water used for soaking. On unwashables, sponge the stains with cold or lukewarm water. Sponging with a little hydrogen peroxide usually removes any final traces of stain that might be lingering.

North Korean Pilots Tutor Hanoi Fliers

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Korea has joined in the Communist world's support of North Vietnam by supplying a contingent of pilots who apparently are tutoring Hanoi's fliers in aerial operations.

U.S. Intelligence confirmed the presence of 25 to 50 North Koreans in North Vietnam in recent days, it was learned.

Sources said today the North Koreans arrived six to eight weeks ago, but are not known to have participated in any engagements with American planes.

One source categorized the Koreans as counterparts to U.S. military teams assigned to some foreign countries to provide technical training and assistance. Another, however, suggested they might be in North Vietnam for some training of their own in a combat zone

The exact role of the North Koreans was not spelled out officially but, government spokesmen said, they have been flying out of Hanoi's main bases.

It is too early to attach significance to the North Korean entry into the war picture, sources said.

North Vietnam has a small air force of Soviet-made planes. The Pentagon credits Hanoi with 15 to 20 MIG21s, 40 to 50 older MIG15s and MIG17s and six old Russian IL28 bombers. There have been unconfirmed reports that the Soviets have provided 100 more planes in recent weeks.

The North Vietnamese planes, however, have not been a major obstacle to U.S. planes striking at military targets in the north. For this reason, and because the administration seeks to avoid escalating the war, the United States has refrained from bombing Hanoi's air bases, officials said.

Officials said North Korea has a competent air force, largely because of Soviet help. The North Korean pilots by and large have been trained by the Soviets and in Soviet planes.

Powell Seen As Switching His Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell reportedly is switching strategy in his fight to keep his congressional seat.

An associate of the New York Negro Democrat said Wednesday that Powell changed his mind about blasting congressmen who want to deny him his seat Jan. 10. Instead, he said, Powell would fight "all the way to the top" to take his House seat.

The associate also said Powell may announce early next year a drive to satisfy the $164,000 libel judgment which is the root of his present woes.

Powell is at his Bahamas Island retreat, where he rejected contact with newsmen and refused to testify at a House subcommittee hearing into expenditures by his Education and Labor Committee.

He faces jail for contempt of court for failing to pay the libel judgment. Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., has said he will challenge Powell's seating when Congress convenes if the Harlem lawmaker is still in contempt.

Powell ordered withdrawal Wednesday a news release blasting the congressmen who are trying to unseat him. The release, which had been scheduled for use today, asked the nation's Negroes to rally to his support.

Indications were that Powell decided an attack on his foes would weaken his standing in the House.

Powell also reportedly is now trying to raise enough money to pay the judgment won by a Harlem widow.

The closed hearing of a House subcommittee recessed Wednesday with a declaration by Chairman Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, that more than 75 airline trips charged to staff members of Powell's committee were taken by someone else. The hearing resumes Dec. 29.

IN RACING, Petersen and his staff came up with the idea of running stock cars on road tracks. He has 15 per cent interest in Riverside (Calif.) International Speedway and first tried the idea there four years ago. It is the newest type of auto racing in the country and its immediate popularity has helped integrate the long-divided road racing and oval racing legions.

Those policymakers in Detroit got a look at Bob Petersen's thinking earlier this year when he presented them with an idea that had them coughing and sputtering at first.

"Would you believe all America's automotive competitors on the same television show?" Petersen said. "We haven't signed the deal but I think they've bought the idea.

"We'll present all or most of the models for 10 companies next fall on an hour TV special. We'll intertwine it with previews of 12 new motion pictures — this for the ladies — so the consumers can get a good look at the new line of cars in one sweep. Magazines do it, so why not television? There'll be some analyzing of cars — which is the touchy part —but mostly it'll be a showing. Still, we can't hedge on this show. I think we've built a reputation on telling it like it is. So I want this show to be right."

Peterson Productions was the producer of Wonderful World of Wheels in a September CBS-TV special.

"The ratings were good. For me it was just more proof that the nation is thinking car," Petersen said, rubbing his crewcut hair and breaking into his boyish grin. "Keep in mind we were bucking Batman and Tarzan."

Strike

hastalloy-X — and only this plant would be reopened under an injunction.

The Justice Department pressed for the injunction against the steelworkers' union on grounds that supplies of hastalloy-X will be exhausted by the end of the month, idling jet engine manufacture and possibly resulting in an acute shortage of replacement parts for aircraft in Vietnam.

In ordering the injunction the judge said a substantial part of an industry had been affected by the strike and that it indeed affected the nation's safety.

The government based much of its argument on a statement from Cyrus R. Vance, deputy secretary of defense.

Vance said hastalloy X, a special high-temperature alloy, is used to fabricate combustion liners for jet engines on the F4 Phantom, RF4 reconnaissance plane and the F104 high altitude fighter.

Vance said the F4 used by the Navy and Air Force "has been assigned to combat operations in Southeast Asia under the highest priority."

Stellite, he added, is the major producer of the alloy.

Q.—How can I make sure of the removal of cosmetic stains from the necklines of dresses I am washing?

A.—A good hair shampoo rubbed into these stained areas before the dresses are put into the washer will leave the fabric clean and fresh-looking when it finally emerges.

Q.—How can I keep cream from curdling?

A.—If the sweetness of cream seems doubtful, stir a pinch of seems doutful, stir a pinch of baking soda into it. This prevents curdling, even in hot coffee.

Q. — How can I remove bloodstains from washable and unwashable materials?

A. — Washables should be soaked or rubbed with cold water, then washed in household ammonia, or two cups of salt to each gallon of water used for soaking. On unwashables, sponge the stains with cold or lukewarm water. Sponging with a little hydrogen peroxide usually removes any final traces of stain that might be lingering.

North Korean Pilots Tutor Hanoi Fliers

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Korea has joined in the Communist world's support of North Vietnam by supplying a contingent of pilots who apparently are tutoring Hanoi's fliers in aerial operations.

U.S. Intelligence confirmed the presence of 25 to 50 North Koreans in North Vietnam in recent days, it was learned.

Sources said today the North Koreans arrived six to eight weeks ago, but are not known to have participated in any engagements with American planes.

One source categorized the Koreans as counterparts to U.S. military teams assigned to some foreign countries to provide technical training and assistance. Another, however, suggested they might be in North Vietnam for some training of their own in a combat zone.

The exact role of the North Koreans was not spelled out officially but, government spokesmen said, they have been flying out of Hanoi's main bases.

It is too early to attach significance to the North Korean entry into the war picture, sources said.

North Vietnam has a small air force of Soviet-made planes. The Pentagon credits Hanoi with 15 to 20 MIG21s, 40 to 50 older MIG15s and MIG17s and six old Russian IL28 bombers. There have been unconfirmed reports that the Soviets have provided 100 more planes in recent weeks.

The North Vietnamese planes, however, have not been a major obstacle to U.S. planes striking at military targets in the north. For this reason, and because the administration seeks to avoid escalating the war, the United States has refrained from bombing Hanoi's air bases, officials said.

Officials said North Korea has a competent air force, largely because of Soviet help. The North Korean pilots by and large have been trained by the Soviets and in Soviet planes.

Powell Seen As Switching His Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell reportedly is switching strategy in his fight to keep his congressional seat.

An associate of the New York Negro Democrat said Wednesday that Powell changed his mind about blasting congressmen who want to deny him his seat Jan. 10. Instead, he said, Powell would fight "all the way to the top" to take his House seat.

The associate also said Powell may announce early next year a drive to satisfy the $164,000 libel judgment which is the root of his present woes.

Powell is at his Bahamas Island retreat, where he rejected contact with newsmen and refused to testify at a House subcommittee hearing into expenditures by his Education and Labor Committee.

He faces jail for contempt of court for failing to pay the libel judgment. Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-Calif., has said he will challenge Powell's seating when Congress convenes if the Harlem lawmaker is still in contempt.

Powell ordered withdrawal Wednesday a news release blasting the congressmen who are trying to unseat him. The release, which had been scheduled for use today, asked the nation's Negroes to rally to his support.

Indications were that Powell decided an attack on his foes would weaken his standing in the House.

Powell also reportedly is now trying to raise enough money to pay the judgment won by a Harlem widow.

The closed hearing of a House subcommittee recessed Wednesday with a declaration by Chairman Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, that more than 75 airline trips charged to staff members of Powell's committee were taken by someone else. The hearing resumes Dec. 29.

Q.—How can I patch holes in concrete?

A.—Prepare the hole first, making the underside larger than the upper side — like an inverted "V." Do this with a cold chisel. Next make sure that the particles and dust are all brushed away. Moisten the surface and edges of the concrete to be patched, fill in the hole, and tamp the patching cement well in. Keep this patched area moist, since moisture delays the curing time for cement and makes the finished patch hold much better.

Q.—Please suggest a good, effective way to clean crystal glassware.

A.—One excellent method is with newspapers. The inside of the glass should be damp. Crush the paper inside, and rub it around briskly.

Q.—How can I get longer life from my pastry brush?

A.—By washing and drying it carefully after each using. Hang it up to dry where the air circulates before putting it away.

just discharged two children and was waiting at the traffic signal.

The door on the driver's side was jammed shut, but the bulk of the sand poured into the bus farther back. The roof was pinched in and the frame twisted sideways.

The bus driver, James Levy, 40, father of three, was treated for shock. Levy, who escaped further injury, said he would never drive a school bus again.

Provincial police identified the truck driver as Marcel Lefrancois of Stoney, Ont., who was being detained pending results of an investigation. He was not hurt.

One of the rescuers, Ralph Bondy, 27, of McGregor, Ont., severely burned his left hand as he used a torch to cut through the steel leg of a bus seat under which a boy was trapped.

"I held my hand over the boy's face to protect him from the flame and sparks, and as the torch burst through the steel it seared my hand," Bondy said.

"Kids were screaming, saying, 'save me!' and, 'I'm going to die!' They were in hysterics. A lot of other people were coming up, too, and we started tearing the bus apart, to pull the kids out," he said.

"We tore the insides of that bus apart, mostly with our bare hands."

Where The Good Jobs Are

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The myth that New York, Chicago or San Francisco are the only cities in the country worth the attention of a bright college graduate is quickly dying.

Instead of catching the first train to Metropolis after graduation, many graduates are now checking out industry in their home towns and finding that even Grind Stone, Inc., has corporate offices in Tokyo, Teheran and Paris, not to mention New York.

Local Chambers of Commerce are encouraging renewed student interest in local business through the sponsorship of career conferences usually held the last week of December for the student's convenience.

THE CONFERENCES go by a variety of names: Operation Native Son, Operation Contact or Kentuckiana Career Expositions, but in each city the idea is basically the same — to give local employers and local students, attending schools in or out of town, an opportunity to look each other over during the Christmas vacation.

The "Native Son" idea originated several years ago in Milwaukee where the chamber offered free lunches to seniors who would come in and talk with local business people.

The response was unexpectedly enthusiastic. Just to make sure the enthusiasm was real, the free lunch was dropped the following year, but area students showed up in droves, anyway.

In 1964, when Toledo tried out the idea, 20 companies interviewed more than 1,200 students with excellent results in terms of savings of time and money for both students and employers.

Much publicity was given to Toledo's plan and subsequently the idea swept the country. This year about 70 communities, large and small, will be having career conferences for students.

Students become acquainted with the business people in the local community, and get some insight into how they think and what they are planning.

Students will also be able to get a wider perspective on qualifications necessary for different kinds of jobs. Seniors and graduate students will make contacts that will be valuable almost immediately. Others will have a chance to do a bit of jobfishing.

ALMOST ALL conferences are being held Dec. 27, 28, or both days.

Come prepared. The more specific questions you can ask, the better. What training programs does a company offer math majors? Will they hire someone with his army service still ahead of him? Are summer jobs available?

Don't settle for the standard patter from company representatives. Let them know you're alive and curious.

If the conference is large, you probably won't have time to see every company. The ones you do see, however, should be followed up with a letter or phone call to the interviewer.

Also, note company literature. Is it creative and designed for today's students or does it date from 1947? A company's attitude towards its recruiting material often reveals its attitude towards its recruits.

Philadelphia has a typical program. Here both the Junior and Senior Chambers of Commerce have cooperated in inducing 62 companies to shell out $200 apiece to set up interviewing booths in the main ballroom of the Sheraton Hotel.

Philadelphia is mainly interested in seniors and graduate students. Most communities, however, will be happy to receive all interested students.

Thirty - minute interviews are permitted each student. The aim is initial contact, and no jobs are offered on the spot. However, arrangements may be made for a plant visit in the future.

THE FOLLOWING cities plan Native Son programs: Arkansas: Magnolia. Illinois: Chicago, Danville, Rockford. Indiana: Crawfordsville, Evansville, Fort Wayne, Indianapolis, Marion, Muncie, South Bend. Iowa: Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, Muscatine. Kansas: Kansas City. Kentucky: Ashland, Louisville. Maryland: Baltimore, Bethesda, Salisbury. Massachusetts: Springfield. Minnesota: Minneapolis, St. Paul. New Jersey: Morristown, Passaic. New Mexico: Las Cruces. New York: Binghamton, Buffalo, Jamestown, Olean, Rochester, Syracuse, Utica. North Carolina: Charlotte. Ohio: Akron, Canton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Dayton, Marietta, Middletown, Toledo, Youngstown. Pennsylvania: Greensburg, Latrobe, Harrisburg, Philadelphia. Rhode Island: Providence. Texas: Dallas, Fort Worth. Washington: Tacoma. Wisconsin: Janesville, Milwaukee, Wausau.

the administration of some of his Great Society programs, about the distribution of federal patronage and about the way the Democratic National Committee functioned in the November election.

The President was asked about speculation that he would not run for re-election in 1968.

"I feel about that like I feel about most speculation," he replied. "I've got other things to do."

One newsman persisted and asked if he would run in 1968.

"I'll cross that bridge when I get to it," Johnson said. "This is not 1968."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remove "fuzz balls" on sweaters?

A.—Sometimes just the brushing over of the sweater with a dry sponge will remove these fuzz balls. Or, if this method fails, give the sweater a gentle shave with a safety razor. Then after the sweater is brushed, it will look ever so much better.

unnamed person as saying that, "in the past 10 days, American planes made four air raids to bomb and strafe with rockets densely populated areas and suburbs of Hanoi," 3.1 to 6.2 miles from the capital's center.

The official added, Tass said, that the raids killed or wounded hundreds of persons.

Tass said "material evidence" showed U.S. denials of bombing civilian objectives were lies.

The Soviet Communist party paper Pravda quoted Hanoi's mayor, Trang Qui Hung, as talking about U.S. raids on "Hanoi itself" as a future possibility.

The mayor, interviewed by Pravda's Hanoi correspondent, said one-third of the city's population, including almost all school children, have been evacuated.

"We consider that at any moment Hanoi can be bombed."

Pravda said the interview was given "some days before the December bombings of Hanoi." The U.S. Command in Saigon has denied North Vietnamese claims that American planes bombed Hanoi on Dec. 13 and 14.

Area Man Put On Probation For Assault

A Beaver County man, convicted of participating in the gang assault of an 18-year-old girl, was placed on probation for one year Wednesday.

Judge Gwilym A. Price Jr., in sentencing Scott Cope Jr. of Rochester in Criminal Court at Pittsburg, took into the consideration the 98 days Cope has spent in jail after his arrest Aug. 11.

Cope was the second of 13 men who stood trial to be sentenced. The girl testified that she was beaten and assaulted at an isolated section of Leetsdale Borough near Pittsburgh.

Three of the men were exonerated. They were the only three who had been in jail because they could not post the $10,000 bond.

The other eight — some of whom were convicted of sodomy, a felony, and assault and battery and other charges—will be sentenced after motions by their attorney for a new trial are disposed of by Judge Price. They are out on $10,000 bond each.

Gause Named Aide To Bettis

LISBON — James Ronald Gause, 33, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 will begin work Jan. 1 as an investigator for the county prosecuting attorney's office. He is now a deputy sheriff.

Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis announced the appointment today after receiving the approval of county commissioners and the judges of Common Pleas and Juvenile Courts.

Gause is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Gause of Guilford Lake. He is married and has four children. The new post will pay $6,000 a year.

Bettis said Gause is experienced in investigation procedures through his work in the sheriff's department and completion of training courses offered by the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He is an expert marksman and holds several records in firearms competition.

Bettis said the investigator will work with the various police departments in the preparation of felony cases for trial and Grand Jury action. He also will work in Juvenile Court and the three County Courts, assisting prosecutors assigned to them in the preparation of contested misdemeanor cases.

New Greek Cabinet Takes Oath Of Office

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — King Constantine watched a new Greek Cabinet take the oath of office today and then announced a new Parliament will be elected next May.

In a radio broadcast, the king did not specify the precise date but said the voting would be toward the end of May. In his broadcast the king said that after the resignation of Premier Stephanos Stephanopoulos he had decided "the time was ripe to select a government to prepare the nation for elections."

Book

which led to the Look agreement.

Mrs. Kennedy said in her statement that "Look magazine has agreed to remove or modify all those passages in the magazine version of 'The Death of a President' relating to the personal life" of herself and her children.

"These paragraphs," Mrs. Kennedy's statement continued, "were the sole reasons for the initiation of her legal action. Since every passage of a personal nature under contention for several months was either deleted by Look, or changed to her satisfaction, Mrs. Kennedy has withdrawn her suit."

The Cowles' statement said that the changes involved "approximately 1,600 out of 80,000 authorized words, but that they 'in no way affected the historical accuracy or completeness of Mr. Manchester's manuscript."

Mrs. Kennedy, in what was interpreted by some as an apparent but indirect allusion to President Johnson, said in her statement:

"I have been told there are historical inaccuracies and unfair references in this book. That they have been written is unfortunate. However, it was clear before bringing this suit that historical judgments, even if inaccurate, could not properly be suppressed by a court of law. In time, history will deal fairly and justly with this period."

Several persons who have read the book reported that it shows a hostility by the Kennedys towards Johnson and depicts the President in an unfavorable light. Some of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's advisors feel that it could further strain the political relationship between Johnson and Kennedy and possibly have an adverse effect on the Democratic senator's political future.

A source close to the Kennedy family said earlier in the week that members of the family also were upset about the references to Johnson in the book, and that they felt Manchester had treated the President unfairly.

Robert Kennedy, vacationing in Sun Valley, Idaho, declined to comment on the Look agreement.

Manchester could not be reached immediately for comment.

Mrs. Kennedy said in her statement that "no material of historical significance has been altered nor has the historical record been impaired in the slightest by the modifications and deletions."

She said that neither she nor Robert Kennedy "has in any way approved or endorsed the material in the Look articles."

"The author, William Manchester, and the publisher of Look magazine have assumed complete and sole responsibility," she said.

Cowles said the changes "concern only the passages to which Mrs. Kennedy objected on personal grounds."

"We are satisfied," he said, "with the outcome of the discussions."

Richard N. Goodwin, a former aide to President Kennedy who is acting as Mrs. Kennedy's adviser, made the final revisions in the serialization.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The motto "In God We Trust" was first placed on the backs of some United States coins in 1864. According to The World Almanac, the idea for an inscription came from the Rev. M. R. Watkinson in a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Salmon P. Chase, Nov. 13, 1861. In 1956, Congress designated the phrase as the national motto and ordered it placed on all paper and coin money.

unnamed person as saying that, "in the past 10 days, American planes made four air raids to bomb and strafe with rockets densely populated areas and suburbs of Hanoi," 3.1 to 6.2 miles from the capital's center.

The official added, Tass said, that the raids killed or wounded hundreds of persons.

Tass said "material evidence" showed U.S. denials of bombing civilian objectives were lies.

The Soviet Communist party paper Pravda quoted Hanoi's mayor, Trang Qui Hung, as talking about U.S. raids on "Hanoi itself" as a future possibility.

The mayor, interviewed by Pravda's Hanoi correspondent, said one-third of the city's population, including almost all school children, have been evacuated.

"We consider that at any moment Hanoi can be bombed."

Pravda said the interview was given "some days before the December bombings of Hanoi." The U.S. Command in Saigon has denied North Vietnamese claims that American planes bombed Hanoi on Dec. 13 and 14.

Area Man Put On Probation For Assault

A Beaver County man, convicted of participating in the gang assault of an 18-year-old girl, was placed on probation for one year Wednesday.

Judge Gwilym A. Price Jr., in sentencing Scott Cope Jr. of Rochester in Criminal Court at Pittsburg, took into the consideration the 98 days Cope has spent in jail after his arrest Aug. 11.

Cope was the second of 13 men who stood trial to be sentenced. The girl testified that she was beaten and assaulted at an isolated section of Leetsdale Borough near Pittsburgh.

Three of the men were exonerated. They were the only three who had been in jail because they could not post the $10,000 bond.

The other eight — some of whom were convicted of sodomy, a felony, and assault and battery and other charges—will be sentenced after motions by their attorney for a new trial are disposed of by Judge Price. They are out on $10,000 bond each.

Gause Named Aide To Bettis

LISBON — James Ronald Gause, 33, of Hanoverton R. D. 1 will begin work Jan. 1 as an investigator for the county prosecuting attorney's office. He is now a deputy sheriff.

Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis announced the appointment today after receiving the approval of county commissioners and the judges of Common Pleas and Juvenile Courts.

Gause is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Gause of Guilford Lake. He is married and has four children. The new post will pay $6,000 a year.

Bettis said Gause is experienced in investigation procedures through his work in the sheriff's department and completion of training courses offered by the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He is an expert marksman and holds several records in firearms competition.

Bettis said the investigator will work with the various police departments in the preparation of felony cases for trial and Grand Jury action. He also will work in Juvenile Court and the three County Courts, assisting prosecutors assigned to them in the preparation of contested misdemeanor cases.

New Greek Cabinet Takes Oath Of Office

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — King Constantine watched a new Greek Cabinet take the oath of office today and then announced a new Parliament will be elected next May.

In a radio broadcast, the king did not specify the precise date but said the voting would be toward the end of May. In his broadcast the king said that after the resignation of Premier Stephanos Stephanopoulos he had decided "the time was ripe to select a government to prepare the nation for elections."

which led to the Look agreement.

Mrs. Kennedy said in her statement that "Look magazine has agreed to remove or modify all those passages in the magazine version of 'The Death of a President' relating to the personal life" of herself and her children.

"These paragraphs," Mrs. Kennedy's statement continued, "were the sole reasons for the initiation of her legal action. Since every passage of a personal nature under contention for several months was either deleted by Look, or changed to her satisfaction, Mrs. Kennedy has withdrawn her suit."

The Cowles' statement said that the changes involved "approximately 1,600 out of 80,000 authorized words, but that they 'in no way affected the historical accuracy or completeness of Mr. Manchester's manuscript.'"

Mrs. Kennedy, in what was interpreted by some as an apparent but indirect allusion to President Johnson, said in her statement:

"I have been told there are historical inaccuracies and unfair references in this book. That they have been written is unfortunate. However it was clear before bringing this suit that historical judgments, even if inaccurate, could not properly be suppressed by a court of law. In time, history will deal fairly and justly with this period."

Several persons who have read the book reported that it shows a hostility by the Kennedys towards Johnson and depicts the President in an unfavorable light. Some of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's advisors feel that it could further strain the political relationship between Johnson and Kennedy and possibly have an adverse effect on the Democratic senator's political future.

A source close to the Kennedy family said earlier in the week that members of the family also were upset about the references to Johnson in the book, and that they felt Manchester had treated the President unfairly.

Robert Kennedy, vacationing in Sun Valley, Idaho, declined to comment on the Look agreement.

Manchester could not be reached immediately for comment.

Mrs. Kennedy said in her statement that "no material of historical significance has been altered nor has the historical record been impaired in the slightest by the modifications and deletions."

She said that neither she nor Robert Kennedy "has in any way approved or endorsed the material in the Look articles."

"The author, William Manchester, and the publisher of Look magazine have assumed complete and sole responsibility," she said.

Cowles said the changes "concern only the passages to which Mrs. Kennedy objected on personal grounds."

"We are satisfied," he said, "with the outcome of the discussions."

Richard N. Goodwin, a former aide to President Kennedy who is acting as Mrs. Kennedy's adviser, made the final revisions in the serialization.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The motto "In God We Trust" was first placed on the backs of some United States coins in 1864. According to The World Almanac, the idea for an inscription came from the Rev. M. R. Watkinson in a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Salmon P. Chase, Nov. 13, 1861. In 1956, Congress designated the phrase as the national motto and ordered it placed on all paper and coin money.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm an Air Force officer who has learned a lot from your column.

I'm always surprised when I read about husbands who want to drag confessions out of their wives. My problem is just the opposite. I wish my wife would keep quiet.

I recently returned from serving several months in Spain. The first thing my wife hit me with was the details of her love affair with an ex-sweetheart. I told her I didn't want to hear about it—that eight months was a long time to be without a husband. I said I forgave her and please to stop talking about it.

She is wonderful to me when I'm at home and I'm willing to settle for that, which some people say is crazy, but it's the way I see it.

My wife insists she must purge herself of guilt by reciting every detail of her escapades. This bothers me to the point where I'm thinking about packing my bags permanently. Can you help?—AAF.

Dear AAF: Your wife's "purging" has a streak of sadism which you ought to recognize even if she does not.

If you are willing to settle for being treated well when you are at home that's some settlement, Bud. The least she can do is respect your wishes.

Suggest that the doll purge herself by unloading on a clergyman or a counselor or someone who can listen without becoming emotionally involved.

Dear Ann: Our son, a college senior, is engaged to marry a 20-year-old girl. She is a bright and attractive psychology major and we like her. The only thing that bothers us is that she still is talking baby talk.

For yes she says, "goo goo." No is "noo noo." Dinner is "din din," and water is "wa wa."

We find this annoying and feel that our son will hate it after they are married. Should I say something to her privately?—I.M.I.L.

Dear I.: If your son grows to hate it, he'll let her know. They say love is blind and, apparently in this case, it is also deaf. Keep quiet.

Beat Generation

Dear Ann: Please tell me what to do before I go out of my mind. Our next-door neighbors have two teen-age daughters. These girls have a record player which goes for six and seven hours at a stretch. Some days I could swear they are playing the same record over and over again 20 or 30 times.

My husband has heart trouble and is very nervous. He can't stand any noise. Our own grandchildren have to walk around in their stocking feet when they come over, yet these kids next door are practically breaking our eardrums.

It's 4 p.m. now and the racket has been going since 10 a.m. Our windows are closed, but their windows are open. Will you please tell me what to do? C. T.

Dear C.T.: They say you can catch more flies with honey than with vinegar. Have you tried it?

Explain to the girls that your husband is ill and their loud music is hard on his nerves. Ask them please to turn down the music player and to keep their windows closed. It may surprise you to find that if you request rather than demand—if you make them feel they are doing you a favor—you'll get better results.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

3 Killed, 2 Hurt In Dayton Accident, Explosion, Blaze

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — An accident on a loading dock was followed by an explosion and a $250,000 fire that took three lives at a Dayton truck terminal Wednesday.

Two men blown off the dock and burned in the explosion remained in critical condition early today. Several other persons suffered minor injuries.

Fire Chief Louis Rosa made the early damage estimate but several sources indicated the figure would go much higher. The building, which covers a half-block and has 32 loading docks, was filled with flames in the fire that sent up a black mushroom smoke cloud minutes after the explosion. Three trucks and two trailers burned.

Killed were Mrs. Mary Jane Epple, 33, Mary Ward, about 40, and Edward Perkins, 38, all of Dayton and employes of Continental Transport Lines, Inc. The women were trapped in the fire, Perkins died late Wednesday night in a hospital.

The men in critical condition, Cecil Collins, 37, of Dayton and Donald Harrison, 49, of West Milton, are Continental truck drivers.

Fire officials said kerosene apparently was spilled while Collins and Harrison were filling a large space heater on the dock. Perkins, the company's office manager, was standing nearby. All were blown off the dock in the explosion that occurred just before quitting time at the terminal.

A wrecking truck driver, J.T. Smith of Kettering, arrived at the terminal just after the blast.

"There were truck drivers running everywhere," Smith said. "I saw this one guy with no clothes on." He said he wrapped the injured man in a jacket.

Harold Epple also drove up to the building soon after the explosion. He was there to pick up his wife, who yas to have been given a party Wednesday night, the eve of her 34th birthday.

The bodies of Mrs. Epple and Miss Ward were found in the Continental office, where they worked, about two hours later.

2 Cars Damaged In 3rd St. Crash

Two cars were damaged in a collision Wednesday night on the Chester Bridge approach at E. 3rd and College Sts., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1957 four - door sedan operated by John W. Parson, 41, of 475½ Mulberry St. and a 1966 two-door sedan operated by Ralpn S. Tate, 71, of Hookstown R.D. 1, officers said.

Parson was driving off the span and Tate's car was moving onto the bridge, police said. Each blamed the other for the collision, which damaged a chrome strip on the left front fender of the Parson car and dented the left front fender of Tate's auto, police said.

Officers Arrest Man In Breaking Window Glasses

A 29-year-old East Liverpool man was jailed early today on charges of intoxication and resisting arrest after a disturbance at his home in which he allegedly smashed out window panes with his hands.

Vance M. Thomas of 1011 Florence St. was taken into custody at 3:14 this morning by Patrolman Paul C. Blevins, who responded to a call from Thomas' mother, Mrs. John Moore.

Blevins said the mother reported Thomas "jumped out of bed and began knocking out windows with his hands." The officer said he found Thomas seated on a stoop outside the house, his hands and arms covered with blood. When Blevins asked Thomas to go inside the house, he became belligerent, the officer said.

Blevins subdued the 240-pound man with a shot of tear gas, then handcuffed him. Thomas was treated at City Hospital and then jailed to await a Municipal Court hearing on the two charges.

Christmas Program Planned At Mission

A Christmas program will be held at the Emmanuel Mission near Chester Friday at 7:30 p. m.

The Adult and Junior groups will present a cantata, "The Heavens Declare." The Primary Class will give recitations. The Rev. Paul Brookes, pastor, said the public is invited.

Warren Police, Firemen Still Calling In Sick

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Operations of the Warren police and fire departments are being curtailed as men continue to call in sick.

The Police and Firefighters Association, representing both departments, have asked for a $100-a-month raise plus longevity pay. Asked how long the men would remain sick, a fire department spokesman said, "till the fellows get better."

Four policemen reported for the 4 p.m. shift Wednesday. The normal number is 12.

Earlier, four fire stations were closed when 12 of 32 firemen reported in sick. The city has 182 police and firemen.

Only two fire stations—Central Dwntown and Atlantic — were operating Wednesday night.

Deaths May Reach 66

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's highway safety officials have estimated that the traffic death toll for Christmas and New Year's weekends will be 33 each.

Injuries will probably total about 3,400, the forecast said.

A year ago, the two holiday periods brought 98 highway deaths in the state.

Fire Chief Louis Rosa made the early damage estimate but several sources indicated the figure would go much higher. The building, which covers a half-block and has 32 loading docks, was filled with flames in the fire that sent up a black mushroom smoke cloud minutes after the explosion. Three trucks and two trailers burned.

Killed were Mrs. Mary Jane Epple, 33, Mary Ward, about 40, and Edward Perkins, 38, all of Dayton and employes of Continental Transport Lines, Inc. The women were trapped in the fire, Perkins died late Wednesday night in a hospital.

The men in critical condition, Cecil Collins, 37, of Dayton and Donald Harrison, 49, of West Milton, are Continental truck drivers.

Fire officials said kerosene apparently was spilled while Collins and Harrison were filling a large space heater on the dock. Perkins, the company's office manager, was standing nearby. All were blown off the dock in the explosion that occurred just before quitting time at the terminal.

A wrecking truck driver, J.T. Smith of Kettering, arrived at the terminal just after the blast.

"There were truck drivers running everywhere," Smith said. "I saw this one guy with no clothes on." He said he wrapped the injured man in a jacket.

Harold Epple also drove up to the building soon after the explosion. He was there to pick up his wife, who yas to have been given a party Wednesday night, the eve of her 34th birthday.

The bodies of Mrs. Epple and Miss Ward were found in the Continental office, where they worked, about two hours later.

2 Cars Damaged In 3rd St. Crash

Two cars were damaged in a collision Wednesday night on the Chester Bridge approach at E. 3rd and College Sts., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1957 four - door sedan operated by John W. Parson, 41, of 475½ Mulberry St. and a 1966 two-door sedan operated by Ralpn S. Tate, 71, of Hookstown R.D. 1, officers said.

Parson was driving off the span and Tate's car was moving onto the bridge, police said. Each blamed the other for the collision, which damaged a chrome strip on the left front fender of the Parson car and dented the left front fender of Tate's auto, police said.

Officers Arrest Man In Breaking Window Glasses

A 29-year-old East Liverpool man was jailed early today on charges of intoxication and resisting arrest after a disturbance at his home in which he allegedly smashed out window panes with his hands.

Vance M. Thomas of 1011 Florence St. was taken into custody at 3:14 this morning by Patrolman Paul C. Blevins, who responded to a call from Thomas' mother, Mrs. John Moore.

Blevins said the mother reported Thomas "jumped out of bed and began knocking out windows with his hands." The officer said he found Thomas seated on a stoop outside the house, his hands and arms covered with blood. When Blevins asked Thomas to go inside the house, he became belligerent, the officer said.

Blevins subdued the 240-pound man with a shot of tear gas, then handcuffed him. Thomas was treated at City Hospital and then jailed to await a Municipal Court hearing on the two charges.

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Operations of the Warren police and fire departments are being curtailed as men continue to call in sick.

The Police and Firefighters Association, representing both departments, have asked for a $100-a-month raise plus longevity pay. Asked how long the men would remain sick, a fire department spokesman said, "till the fellows get better."

Four policemen reported for the 4 p.m. shift Wednesday. The normal number is 12.

Earlier, four fire stations were closed when 12 of 32 firemen reported in sick. The city has 182 police and firemen.

Only two fire stations—Central Dwntown and Atlantic — were operating Wednesday night.

That Tschaikowsky's "Nutcracker" attracted a larger crowd than "Tarzan," "Green Hornet" and "Time Tunnel"?

And that Tennessee Williams' two-hour "Glass Menagerie," with Shirley Booth, Barbara Loden, Pat Hingle and Hal Holbrook, was a respectable second to "Bewitched," "That Girl" and Dean Martin, and comfortably ahead of "Star Trek," "Hero" and "Hawk"?

THAT'S WHAT the national Arbitrons said about last week's specials, which averaged better competitively than "Death of a Salesman" in the same rating service last May.

Michael Campus, director of CBS-TV specials, said popular support of the music, ballet and drama specials proved there was an audience ready for such cultural manna, a larger, younger audience than anyone had hoped.

Numbers are not the primary consideration of such quality programs, of course, but they help executive enthusiasm for more.

U.S. To Help Pay Rent At Retirement Center

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — "I think it's a wonderful program," said one of the 13 elderly persons who found out yesterday that the Department of Housing and Urban Development will help pay part of the rent at a retirement center here.

"It will help tremendously," she continued. "I have a nice Social Security, but I have to watch everything I spend. My money goes just so far."

The $819 check for 13 persons is on its way to the Firelands Retirement Center, modernistic building that cost $900,000 and opened last year.

The money is the nation's first payment under an experimental rent supplement program passed by Congress. Names of those receiving help were withheld by the government.

Mrs. Pearl Trotter, manager of Firelands centers here and in nearby Oberlin, said Firelands officials tried more than a year to get the rent supplement program approved. She said an appropriation also has been approved for the Oberlin center.

"It is the most valid way for the government to deal with the problem of housing for elderly," said Linwood Creel Jr., president of Firelands Retirement Centers, Inc., owners of the center.

"It is effective because the subsidy goes directly to individuals rather than to buildings or organizations," Creel added. "And most important, the subsidy goes to persons who really need it."

Under the program, a tenant who qualifies pays 25 per cent of his income for rent, and the Federal Housing Administration pays the landlord an additional amount to bring the figure up to the regular rent.

To qualify, a single person must have income of $2,600 or less and a married couple $3,600 or less.

The Firelands center was intended basically for middle-income persons. Rents range from $80 to $159 or less.

The 76-unit center has 84 residents.

1 Killed, 2 Injured In Pennsylvania Crash

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Two cars collided Wednesday on route 119 about one mile north of here, killing a Connellsville teenager and injuring two others.

George L. Snyder, 16, was dead on arrival at Connellsville State Hospital. He was a passenger in a car driven by Daniel R. Shively, 16, of Connellsville, who was admitted to the hospital in critical condition. The driver of the second car, Eugene H. Lilly, 21, of Connellsville, R. D. 2, was reported in fair condition.

State police said the Shively vehicle broadsided with Lilly's car at the intersection of Route 119 and Coalbrook Road.

4-Vehicle Collision Kills One, Injures 2

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) — One man was killed and two others injured Wednesday in a collision involving four vehicles on Route 422 about 14 miles west of Butler.

Banks Lerch, 28, of Mercer, R.D. 6, was killed in the crash and Gary McCandless, 23, of Butler, R.D. 3, was admitted to Butler County Memorial Hospital in very critical condition.

State police said Lerch's car sideswiped a stationwagon driven by James C. Chiprean, 32, of Butler, then crashed head — on with McCandless' car and collided with a truck operated by Francis G. Horne of Butler, R. D 7.

Horne was hospitalized in fair condition. Chiprean was not hurt.

U.S. To Help Pay Rent At Retirement Center

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — "I think it's a wonderful program," said one of the 13 elderly persons who found out yesterday that the Department of Housing and Urban Development will help pay part of the rent at a retirement center here.

"It will help tremendously," she continued. "I have a nice Social Security, but I have to watch everything I spend. My money goes just so far."

The $819 check for 13 persons is on its way to the Firelands Retirement Center, modernistic building that cost $900,000 and opened last year.

The money is the nation's first payment under an experimental rent supplement program passed by Congress. Names of those receiving help were withheld by the government.

Mrs. Pearl Trotter, manager of Firelands centers here and in nearby Oberlin, said Firelands officials tried more than a year to get the rent supplement program approved. She said an appropriation also has been approved for the Oberlin center.

"It is the most valid way for the government to deal with the problem of housing for elderly," said Linwood Creel Jr., president of Firelands Retirement Centers, Inc., owners of the center.

"It is effective because the subsidy goes directly to individuals rather than to buildings or organizations," Creel added. "And most important, the subsidy goes to persons who really need it."

Under the program, a tenant who qualifies pays 25 per cent of his income for rent, and the Federal Housing Administration pays the landlord an additional amount to bring the figure up to the regular rent.

To qualify, a single person must have income of $2,600 or less and a married couple $3,600 or less.

The Firelands center was intended basically for middle-income persons. Rents range from $80 to $159 or less.

The 76-unit center has 84 residents.

ABC-ITT Merger Signals Start Of Expansion Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Communications Commission approval of the merger of American Broadcasting Co. into International Telephone & Telegraph Co. signals the start of a $140-million expansion campaign for ABC, with heavy emphasis on color telecasting.

The 4-3 approval was voted only 16 hours after the Justice Department said anticompetitive consequences could result from the merger. The department said, however, it would not now bring antitrust action.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Donald F. Turner, who signed the Justice Department's findings, said the department would comment on the approval today after studying FCC opinions.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., who had criticized the merger plans, said he would ask the Senate Small Business Committee to investigate the merger because of what he called ITT's dependence "upon foreign governments for most of its business."

The approval sent ABC stock on the New York Stock Exchange soaring 4⅜ points to a close of $85.

The FCC decision specifically permits the shift of 17 broadcasting stations from the present ABC to the new ABC which will be formed as a part of ITT.

The merger, announced publicly Dec. 8, 1965, involves a stock transaction of between $350 million and $400 million and creates a concern that ranks 20th among the nation's corporations, with assets exceeding $2 billion.

The $140 million or more capital investment plan was brought out during two days of FCC hearings on the merger. ABC was in position to borrow only $6 million, but ITT was shown to have $170 million in bank credit and cash on hand, said Wednesday's decision.

Sources said the main early emphasis would be on the planned color equipment expansion while ITT familiarizes itself with the ABC operation.

The color expansion is designed to meet competition of the other two principal networks, National Broadcasting Co. and Columbia Broadcasting System.

The majority FCC decision said the merger would enable ABC to better compete with the other networks. It cited ITT's ability to provide financial help.

But apparently the key to FCC approval was ITT's promise that ABC's news department would not be interfered with by ITT or any foreign interest.

Beer Distributors Give $200

First Contribution Made In 1967 'Scholars' Drive

A contribution of $200 was made today to the local Dollars for Scholars fund by S. & G. Beer Distributors of 1911 Dresden Ave. and the Iron City Distributing Co. of 315 E. 2nd St.

This is the first donation to the 1967 fund drive, according to Jackman Vodrey, 1966 campaign vice president for the Citizens Scholarship Foundation, which covers the East Liverpool, Beaver Local, Midland, Western Beaver, Wellsville, Oak Glen and South Side school districts.

John J. Falone of S. & G. and C. H. Christ of Iron City, both of East Liverpool, made the presentation of the gift. Both companies are members of the Wholesale Beer Distributors Association of Jefferson and Columbiana counties, which last year also was the first organization to contribute to Dollars for Scholars.

Falone stressed the contribution was made at this time "to demonstrate the sincere interest which S. & G. and Iron City have in the well - being of the communities which they serve."

"We feel Dollars for Scholars does an outstanding job of helping deserving students from this area," he said the 1966 recipient of the beer distributors' scholarship is Carolyn Southall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Southall of East Liverpool, who is attending Kent State University.

Vodrey also announced that the CSF nominating committee has nearly completed work on a slate of officers and trustees for 1967 and that an election meeting will be held Jan. 3 at 7:30 P.M. at the East Liverpool Review.

Any person who contributed to the 1966 campaign is automatically eligible to vote at the election or to nominate individual officers or trustees from their school district.

Interested persons who belong to organizations which contributed in 1966 also are invited to attend, Vodrey said.

Summer Activities Outlined In 2 New Books At Library

New books of special interest to high school and college students are now available at Carnegie Library here, Mrs. Beatrice Davidson, librarian, announced today.

She pointed out that two will assist students in planning activities for next summer.

The first, a new edition of Barron's Teen-age Summer Guide, describes more than 800 separate programs. It covers travel here and abroad, sports, jobs, remedial and advanced study, community service, the arts, wilderness trips and hundreds of other possibilities for the 12-to-20-age group.

The second book is the 1967 Summer Employment Directory, which provides the most recent information on summer job openings throughout the U.S. and Canada.

The two books do not circulate, Mrs. Davidson pointed out, but are available at all times for use in the library. Information relative to the books may be obtained at the charge-out desk.

Other new books of more general appeal available for use at the library include Scott's Standard Postage Stamp Catalog of 1967, now appearing for its 99th year. It long has been known as the "Stamp Collector's Bible."

The new Lasser's Social Security and Medicare Guide outlines maximum benefits from the present social security and medicare programs. The Commerce Clearing House Federal Income Tax Guide outlines the income tax with all its ramifications and is kept up to date by looseleaf supplements as changes in the tax law interpretation occur.

Mrs. Davidson said one of the most recent and one of the most interesting of the new books in the reference room is Keesing's Contemporary Archieves. It is a weekly diary of world events, collected from newspapers and magazines, fully indexed and kept up to date by weekly additions.

The two books do not circulate, Mrs. Davidson pointed out, but are available at all times for use in the library. Information relative to the books may be obtained at the charge-out desk.

Other new books of more general appeal available for use at the library include Scott's Standard Postage Stamp Catalog of 1967, now appearing for its 99th year. It long has been known as the "Stamp Collector's Bible."

The new Lasser's Social Security and Medicare Guide outlines maximum benefits from the present social security and medicare programs. The Commerce Clearing House Federal Income Tax Guide outlines the income tax with all its ramifications and is kept up to date by looseleaf supplements as changes in the tax law interpretation occur.

Mrs. Davidson said one of the most recent and one of the most interesting of the new books in the reference room is Keesing's Contemporary Archieves. It is a weekly diary of world events, collected from newspapers and magazines, fully indexed and kept up to date by weekly additions.

Wellsville police investigated three accidents Wednesday, one of them a three - vehicle mishap.

A large tractor - trailer rig hauling autos and driven by Grover J. Archer of Yorkhaven, Pa., had halted at 4th and Main Sts. at 1 p.m. to permit a motorist in front of the truck to park, police said.

Stopped behind the rig was an auto driven by Fred Watkins, 31, of Calcutta R.D. 3, whose car was struck from the rear by a car driven by Betty J. Siers, 36, of 1112 Mick Rd.

Police said Watkins' car was shoved forward into the rear of the truck.

Watkins was later released from City Hospital after X-rays disclosed no fractures to an injured left knee.

Police said damage to the Watkins' car was extensive. The other two vehicles suffered moderate damage in the mishap, which is still under investigation.

Earlier, police were summoned to the intersection of 10th and Main where Martha J. McIntosh, 51, of 408 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, told police she did not see a car driven by John W. Vance, 44, of 750 Leonard St., East Liverpool, and struck his auto after entering the intersection. Damage was termed light.

A 3:10 p. m. collision caused minor damage to cars driven by Virginia Wedger, 55, of 402 4th St., Wellsville, and Minnie Gbur, 40, of 1235 Main St. Police said the Wedger auto pulled from a parking place on 8th St. and struck the other auto, also eastbound.

U.S. Moving To Offset Soviet Missile Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration plans to move ahead with initial measures to offset Soviet deployment of a new missile defense system without waiting for the outcome of diplomatic efforts to freeze U.S. and Soviet nuclear missile armaments at their present level.

Officials said today that only this double-track plan of action — taking countermeasures and diplomatic steps at the same time — would prudently protect vital U.S. security interests.

The administration program will be presented to Congress by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara early next year. Indications are that details of the program have not been fully worked out but will be given final shape by decisions now in process.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk warned at a news conference Wednesday that the world's two greatest powers are on the verge of a new and costly phase in the nuclear arms race.

"We would regret very much the lifting of the arms race to an entirely new plateau of major expenditures," Rusk said.

"We would like to see some means developed by which both sides would not have to go into wholly new and unprecedented levels of military expenditures, with perhaps no perceptible result in the total strategic situation."

In plain language, officials said, the Soviet Union and the United States are threatened with having to spend perhaps $30 billion apiece in nuclear weapons development without really changing the strategic balance in the world. The administration's idea is that they should find some way to freeze the present balance and save the money for other uses.

Last month McNamara said at a news conference at President Johnson's Texas ranch that the Soviet Union had begun deploying a system of defensive missiles designed to destroy attacking missiles.

His initial countermeasure proposal is to improve U.S. striking power with the producton of a multibillion-dollar Poseidon missile as a successor to the present submarine-borne Polaris.

McNamara added that the Soviet deployment so far had not upset the balance between the two powers. But he also made clear that he thought the United States should go forward on new programs.

Extensive research has been done on an American defensive missile system, the Nike-X, and there is considerable favor in the Defense Department for beginning work on production and deployment.

In recent days U.S. officials disclosed that work was under way on a new approach to the Soviets in the disarmament field to try to control this new stage of the missile race before it got out of hand. This in turn gave rise to general speculation that the administration would delay countermeasures until Soviet reaction was known.

Actually, there have been some informal contacts with the Soviets on this problem. Serious talks are not expected, however, until the new U.S. ambassador, Lelewellyn E. Thompson, gets to Moscow in January or perhaps until disarmament discussions in the 17- nation group are resumed at Geneva Feb. 21.

Arabs To Open Barbed Wire To Let Israel In Holy City

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP) — Despite tension along the armistice line between Jordan and Israel, Arab officials are preparing to open the barbed wire Friday and let more than 5,000 Israeli's into the holy city of Jerusalem for Christmas.

These are the Arab Christians of Israel, cut off from their relatives in the Arab world for the past 18 years of Arab-Israeli conflict.

Throughout the year the armistice lines are closed except to diplomats, U.N. officials and some tourists, and no Arab or Israeli can cross through the Mandelbaum Gate, the only authorized passage through the no-man's land. As at the Berlin Wall, anyone who tries to cross illegally runs the risk of getting shot.

Since 1950, however, under a U.N. agreement, the red and white striped barrier of Mandelbaum has been raised at Christmas to let a selected list of Christian Arabs cross. Each year the number has grown. No matter how high the tension between the two sides, the Christmas crossing has taken place every year.

Jordanian officials in the U.N. liaison office said 5,276 applicants would walk across the truce lines Friday morning — a record number — and stay in Jordan until Christmas night.

Despite the recent crisis in Jordan, with riots and demonstrations sweeping the western part of the country, the Holy Land returned to tranquility as Christmas preparations began. Thousands of visitors were expected to converge from around the world for the sacred rites at Christ's birthplace in Bethlehem.

Roland Webber, chairman, was in charge.

New members welcomed include Daniel Fogo and Rodney L. Meeks, both Vietnam veterans, Edwin S. Ward and Elmer G. Conkle.

John Macla, membership chairman, reported that 10 additional names are needed to reach the 1967 quota of 129. Jay Mathess, commander, presided.

The next meeting will be Jan. 3 at 7:30 p. m.

2 Ohio Youths, Father Of One Get Hero Medals

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two Ohio teen-agers and the father of one of them were cited today by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for lifesaving acts.

Bronze medals were awarded to William Harold Denzer of Kettring, the late Ronald Gene Loch of Mansfield and Loch's father, George M. Loch Jr., 42.

Young Loch, 17, died helping to save Jolene A. McCafferty, 15, from drowning in Lake Erie near Sandusky Aug. 5, 1965. Ronald, who had an asthmatic condition, went to her aid after she stepped into deep water and kept her afloat until the struggle exhausted him.

Loch's father swam to aid Miss McCafferty and held her head above the water until aid arrived. He was unable to release her to go to the aid of his son, who had sunk beneath the surface.

Denzer, 14, entered a burning home in Kettering Aug. 27, 1965, groped through dense smoke to rescue young John C. Bristow who was asleep in his crib.

Another Hearing Set On Speeding Charge

LISBON — Police early today stopped Darrel Collins of the Substation Rd., East Liverpool R. D. 2, to learn why he did not appear for a hearing on a speeding charge Nov. 15 in mayor's court.

Arrested Nov. 14, he was released without bond to appear the next day at Village Hall.

Police said Collins told them he went to the Courthouse, then to the Columbiana County Southwest Court, but clerks had no record of the case.

Collins posted a $15 bond today for a hearing Dec. 27.

Eugene G. Knapp of Bristolville, cited Saturday for improper passing, forfeited a $15 bond yesterday in mayor's court.

Swimming Pool Plans Discussed At Chester

Further discussion on a proposed community swimming pool was held during an informal meeting of Chester Council with Harold Dickey, chairman of the Park Commission, Wednesday night in the Council chambers at City Hall.

The pool, should it become a reality, would be located in City Park near the main park building.

Preliminary aspects of the project were considered — such as costs, financing, size and shape, precise location and attendant facilities, such as bathhouses and a filtration plant.

"It should be large enough to accommodate the city," Councilman Robert Kincaid commented. He emphasized the importance of economy, however, and when a possible cost of $70,000 was suggested, he said, "That is a lot of money just to dig a hole and cover it with concrete."

Clerk - Treasurer Donald Hood estimated that as many as 3,000 people might wish to use the pool, but that only a relatively small percentage would be frequent swimmers.

The choice of whether to use existing space in the park building for a bathhouse or to build an entirely new structure for this purpose also was discussed.

The consensus favored donations by service clubs, individuals and concerns to finance the construction and a membership fee system for maintenance expenses.

It was pointed out that a levy for constructing a pool had been placed on the ballot some six years ago and had received a narrow majority.

Because a 60 per cent majority was required, however, the issue was defeated.

Plans and specifications drawn up at that time were reported last night to be in the possession of Don Chaney of Chester, an active promoter of the campaign for the pool in 1960.

It was agreed that Chaney should be contacted for information and that another meeting be arranged with the Park Commission.

Thieves Take $60 In Purse

A Wellsville district woman told police two young thieves removed $60 in bills from her purse Wednesday night in downtown East Liverpool after knocking the pocketbook out of her hand and then offering to retrieve it.

Mrs. Richard Skelton of Yeager Dr. told officers she was walking in Crook Alley about 7:08 p. m., when the two boys knocked the purse from her grasp. One of the boys, offering to retrieve it for her, kicked it around on the pavement before handing it back, she related.

Mrs. Skelton said she later discovered the boys had removed the $60. The loss included a $20 bill, three $10's and 10 $1's, she said.

Meanwhile, an intruder entered the home of Mrs. Pearl Fickel at 814 Riley Ae. Wednesday night and escaped with an undetermined amount in nickels and dimes after ransacking drawers in a dresser, police said.

Robert Fickel, son of the owner, said he was absent from home between 6:15 and 10:50. When he returned, he discovered the thief had gained entry by prying off a wooden slat that had been nailed over a broken window pane in the cellar door, he said.

Jay B. Mahone of 729 Dewey Ave. reported another instance of thievery of Christmas light bulbs. He told police Wednesday 15 of the bulbs were stolen from his porch.

Students Hold Yule Services

The Rev. Harold Estel of the Oakland Free Methodist Church related the story of "The Strange Christmas" during the annual Christmas services of Neville School Wednesday morning at the Boyce Methodist Church.

First - grade students, taught by Mrs. Florence Burton and Mrs. Martha White, sang "Away In a Manger" and "Little Baby Jesus."

Mrs. Doris Sheppard's second grade sang "There's a Song In The Air." "Merry Christmas Bells" and the "Christmas Story" were sung by Mrs. Elaine Cooper's third grade.

The fourth grades, taught by Mrs. Jean Newlan and Miss Goldenbelle Kelly, sang "O Come All Ye Faithful," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear" and "I Heard The Bells on Christmas Day."

The fifth grade, taught by Wilbur Wolf, sang "Shepherd and The Star" and "Angels In Our Fields." Tina Adkins presented a piano solo.

Mrs. Raffaella Harrington's sixth grade sang "Do You Hear?" and "Drummer Boy."

Hearing Planned For Motorist, 71

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today slated a hearing Dec. 29 at 9 a. m. for Curtis R. Creel, 71, of 1252 Erie St., who was charged with failure to yield the right - of - way after a collision Wednesday night at 7 on Pennsylvania Ave. just east of Boyce St. which damaged his car and an oncoming motorcycle.

Creel pleaded "no contest" this morning on the charge filed by Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes. The officer said Creel was attempting to turn left into a service station when his car was involved in a crash with a 1965 model motorcycle operated by George W. Blackwell, 17, of Toronto R. D. 2.

The crash damaged the motorcycle extensively and also damaged the right front of Creel's 1959 model two - door sedan, the officer said. Questioned by the court, Creel said he has no auto insurance. The judge continued the case to allow him time to make arrangements to pay for the damage to the motorcycle.

Swimming Pool Plans Discussed At Chester

Further discussion on a proposed community swimming pool was held during an informal meeting of Chester Council with Harold Dickey, chairman of the Park Commission, Wednesday night in the Council chambers at City Hall.

The pool, should it become a reality, would be located in City Park near the main park building.

Preliminary aspects of the project were considered — such as costs, financing, size and shape, precise location and attendant facilities, such as bathhouses and a filtration plant.

"It should be large enough to accommodate the city," Councilman Robert Kincaid commented. He emphasized the importance of economy, however, and when a possible cost of $70,000 was suggested, he said, "That is a lot of money just to dig a hole and cover it with concrete."

Clerk - Treasurer Donald Hood estimated that as many as 3,000 people might wish to use the pool, but that only a relatively small percentage would be frequent swimmers.

The choice of whether to use existing space in the park building for a bathhouse or to build an entirely new structure for this purpose also was discussed.

The consensus favored donations by service clubs, individuals and concerns to finance the construction and a membership fee system for maintenance expenses.

It was pointed out that a levy for constructing a pool had been placed on the ballot some six years ago and had received a narrow majority.

Because a 60 per cent majority was required, however, the issue was defeated.

Plans and specifications drawn up at that time were reported last night to be in the possession of Don Chaney of Chester, an active promoter of the campaign for the pool in 1960.

It was agreed that Chaney should be contacted for information and that another meeting be arranged with the Park Commission.

The Rev. Harold Estel of the Oakland Free Methodist Church related the story of "The Strange Christmas" during the annual Christmas services of Neville School Wednesday morning at the Boyce Methodist Church.

First - grade students, taught by Mrs. Florence Burton and Mrs. Martha White, sang "Away In a Manger" and "Little Baby Jesus."

Mrs. Doris Sheppard's second grade sang "There's a Song In The Air." "Merry Christmas Bells" and the "Christmas Story" were sung by Mrs. Elaine Cooper's third grade.

The fourth grades, taught by Mrs. Jean Newlan and Miss Goldenbelle Kelly, sang "O Come All Ye Faithful," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear" and "I Heard The Bells on Christmas Day."

The fifth grade, taught by Wilbur Wolf, sang "Shepherd and The Star" and "Angels In Our Fields." Tina Adkins presented a piano solo.

Mrs. Raffaella Harrington's sixth grade sang "Do You Hear?" and "Drummer Boy."

Hearing Planned For Motorist, 71

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today slated a hearing Dec. 29 at 9 a. m. for Curtis R. Creel, 71, of 1252 Erie St., who was charged with failure to yield the right - of - way after a collision Wednesday night at 7 on Pennsylvania Ave. just east of Boyce St. which damaged his car and an oncoming motorcycle.

Creel pleaded "no contest" this morning on the charge filed by Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes. The officer said Creel was attempting to turn left into a service station when his car was involved in a crash with a 1965 model motorcycle operated by George W. Blackwell, 17, of Toronto R. D. 2.

The crash damaged the motorcycle extensively and also damaged the right front of Creel's 1959 model two - door sedan, the officer said. Questioned by the court, Creel said he has no auto insurance. The judge continued the case to allow him time to make arrangements to pay for the damage to the motorcycle.

Thieves Take $60 In Purse

A Wellsville district woman told police two young thieves removed $60 in bills from her purse Wednesday night in downtown East Liverpool after knocking the pocketbook out of her hand and then offering to retrieve it.

Mrs. Richard Skelton of Yeager Dr. told officers she was walking in Crook Alley about 7:08 p. m., when the two boys knocked the purse from her grasp. One of the boys, offering to retrieve it for her, kicked it around on the pavement before handing it back, she related.

Mrs. Skelton said she later discovered the boys had removed the $60. The loss included a $20 bill, three $10's and 10 $1's, she said.

Meanwhile, an intruder entered the home of Mrs. Pearl Fickel at 814 Riley Ae. Wednesday night and escaped with an undetermined amount in nickels and dimes after ransacking drawers in a dresser, police said.

Robert Fickel, son of the owner, said he was absent from home between 6:15 and 10:50. When he returned, he discovered the thief had gained entry by prying off a wooden slat that had been nailed over a broken window pane in the cellar door, he said.

Jay B. Mahone of 729 Dewey Ave. reported another instance of thievery of Christmas light bulbs. He told police Wednesday 15 of the bulbs were stolen from his porch.

Patriots' Nance Is MVP In AFL

By MIKE RATHET

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Nance, the bruising Boston fullback who stopped looking in the mirror for Jim Brown and started shedding weight for Mike Holovak, was named today the Most Valuable Player in the American Football League by The Associated Press.

Nance romped off with the honor just as he did with the AFL's rushing record, polling 20 of the 27 votes cast in The AP poll by three-man committees of sportwriters and sportcasters in each of the nine league cities.

His only competition came from Kansas City quarterback Len Dawson, who guided the Chiefs to the Western Division crown, and his own teammate, linebacker Nick Buoniconti. Dawson received six votes and Buoniconti one.

But Nance completely outdistanced the field by easily breaking the league rushing record and finishing with a total of 1,458 yards gained on the ground —a record unmatched by any sophomore pro with the exception of Brown, who gained 1,527 yards for Cleveland of the National League.

Before Nance could do that, however, he had to start thinking about the weight he was carrying around—both physically and mentally. The mental aspect came from the comparisons made between Brown and Nance, who followed in his footsteps at Syracuse University.

And so Nance went virtually nowhere on the ground in his rookie year last season while his weight went virtually everywhere on his body — and before he knew it he was up around 245 pounds and benched by Coach Holovak. But he did begin to make the transformation in the final four games.

"I forgot Jimmy Brown and the comparisons and for the first time in months I wanted to play football," Nance says honestly. "As for the weight I wasn't playing much — not concentrating on what I was doing — and the weight kept going up while I didn't even notice it."

This year, at a not-so-svelte but oh-so-effective 235 pounds, Nance gained 100 yards or more in eight games and bettered the 200-yard mark on two occasions while bettering the league rushing record of 1,121 yards set by Paul Lowe.

Football Relations Between East Liverpool, Salem Ended

The grid rivalry between East Liverpool and Salem, one of the oldest in the state, has ended.

A two - year contract proposed by the Salem Athletic Board has been turned down by the East Liverpool Athletic Board, Clifford Lynch, principal confirmed today.

Salem proposed the new two-year contract between the two schools start with the game being played at Salem next season. The two schools played at Salem this past season.

"The fact that Salem requested the game to be played again in 1967 at Salem was not acceptable to the East Liverpool Athletic Board," Lynch said.

SALEM officials requested the first game be played at Salem because of what they termed "unfair treatment by East Liverpool fans and students" during the 1965 game at East Liverpool and because Salem was not given an opportunity to approve the officials for that contest, which they pointed out was not in keeping with the regulations of the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

Salem Principal Wayne Grinnen said: "While the Salem - East Liverpool rivalry and friendship has always been a fine thing in the past, we feel that to go back to East Liverpool under the same conditions at the present time would be subjecting our students, our team, our band and our adult followers to unnecessary risk and danger."

SALEM officials claimed that the Quaker banner, which was placed on the wall in front of the Salem cheerleaders, was pulled off and trampled three different times by East Liverpool followers. The police ignored the request of the cheerleaders' adviser for assistance.

Even though East Liverpool won 46-13, their fans and students insulted and shoved some Salem students and fans during the contest, Salem charges.

In the contract sent to East Liverpool, Salem requested that the 1967 game be played at Salem and then the Quakers would return to East Liverpool in 1968.

—:—

IT ALSO requested that for future games a list of 40 officials be submitted from each school to a neutral person so he could select officials from both lists for the games.

If the initial list weren't suitable, then a second was to be sent and finally if no agreement could be reached, the commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Association was to choose the officials.

THIS MARKS the sixth school in the immediate area which has discontinued grid relations with East Liverpool since Bob McNea, head football coach, has been athletic director at ELHS.

Others who have ended relations are Steubenville Big Red, Toronto, Wellsville, Beaver Local and Oak Glen.

Salem and East Liverpool's gridiron rivalry dates back to 1911. The Potters own a 28-21-2 edge in the series. East Liverpool defeated Salem this past season 12-0.

Vanderbilt Led By Campbell's 38

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kenny Campbell probably will remember the night of Dec. 21, 1966 all his life.

Starting for the first time in his college career, Campbell threw in 38 points to lead the 10th-ranked Vanderbilt Commodores to a 116-92 basketball victory over Northwestern.

A 6-footer from Oak Ridge, Tenn., the 21-year-old Campbell hit on 17 of 26 field goal attempts to tie a Vandy record in the game at Nashville.

Campbell's feat made him the Wednesday college basketball player of the night. His performance overshadowed the return to action tonight of the UCLA Bruins, top-ranked in The Associated Press poll, and Lew Alcindor, their prize 7-foot-1 sophomore.

UCLA and Alcindor play host to the Colorado State University Rams in the Bruins' first game since routing Duke nearly two weeks ago.

Louisville, No. 2 in the AP poll, No. 5 Michigan State and No. 6 New Mexico also chalked up victories on a night replete with intersectional contests.

Playing at home, Louisville defeated St. Louis 75-68. On the road, Michigan State bounced back from its Tuesday setback by New Orleans Loyola, to whip Tulane 76-66 and the New Mexico Lobos beat Creighton at Omaha 79-68.

Illinois smothered Stanford 81-67, Toledo routed Duquesne 89-58, Oklahoma City downed Baylor 103-89, Purdue took Army in overtime 79-69, Iowa humbled California 72-62, Drake upset Colorado 77-72 and Tulsa overcame Utah State 67-52. All were home court triumphs.

Iowa State exploded for 62 points in the second half to whip Texas 101-87 for the championship of the Sun Devil Classic at Tempe, Ariz., Boston College beat Massachusetts 75-67 in the final of the Boston Garden Invitational and Akron won the Rubber City Classic in its home town by downing Bucknell 87-60.

Toledo 'Rockets' To 6th Straight

By The Associated Press

Toledo is on top in the Mid-American Conference basketball race by virtue of winning the only December game on the conference schedule. But that virtually meaningless lead is looking bigger and bigger.

The young Rockets are beating everybody. They remained undefeated Wednesday night as Duquesne became victim No. 6 by an 89-58 score.

Sophomores Steve Mix and John Brisker, with 24 and 20 points respectively, led Toledo against the Dukes. As a team, the Rockets shot 56 per cent from the field.

When MAC play resumes Jan. 4, the Rockets get the chance to convince any remaining sceptics. They face preseason conference favorite Bowling Green on the Falcons' court. Toledo's 1-0 MAC record to date is from a 103-91 decision over Marshall last Saturday.

The Bonnies won it with Ed Ahearn's three-point play near the end.

In Ohio-based holiday tournaments, Akron proved a horid host by swamping Bucknell 87-60 in the finals of the Rubber City Classic and Grove City Classic and Grove City and Steubenville moved into the finals of the Quaker City Tournament at New Philadelphia. Cleveland State scored an 85-83 overtime win over Indiana State (Pa.) in the loser's Christmas Tree Tournament.

Tall Bill Turner scored 21 points for Akron in the Zips' latest runaway. The point-difference was as high as 33 points late in the game.

Larry Osborne led Steubenville on a second half comeback that brought a 67-63 overtime over Defiance. He also led the scoring with 17 points.

Cleveland moved into tonight's finals in the Indiana, Pa., tourney when Ed Williams made a lay-up just before the end of the overtime battle with Indiana State. The Ohioans meet Cheyney State (Pa.) in the finals.

Kaline Signs Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Veteran outfielder Al Kaline, 32, signed his 1967 contract with the Detroit Tigers, General Manager James Campbell said today.

Starr Must Face Front 4 Of Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys' chances of beating Green Bay Jan. 1 for the National Football League championship might well hinge on the performance of their front four.

For the information of Bart Starr, Green Bay's great quarterback, this fearsome foursome has been doing things to quarterbacks that disconcert them, to put it mildly.

The quartet — George Andrie and Willie Townes at ends, Bobb Lilly and Jim Colvin at tackles —set a National Football League record for trapping the quarterback this year.

They did it 60 times during the season, three times more than the record set by Baltimore in 1964.

Negro Quarterback To Direct South Team

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Negro quarterback will direct the South attack for the first time Monday when college all-star teams tangle in the Orange Bowl in the 19th annual North-South football game.

This will be Hank Washington, 6-foot-3, 205-pound West Texas State passer who was fifth in the nation during the past season with a completion average of 58 per cent.

Washington led the country in total offense until hurting his arm late in the year.

South Coach Darrell Royal of Texas said he would open at quarterback with Bo Burris of Houston but Washington will see half the action.

OSU May Raise Price Of Gridiron Tickets

Ohio State University may have to raise football ticket prices to keep its $3 million athletic program financially sound, even though its gridiron crowds are the nation's largest.

The Buckeye athletic department is being squeezed by rising prices without an increase in income.

"We can't do much better on attendance, so how are you going to get more revenue without raising prices?," asked E. Bernard, the athletic department's business manager who keeps the books on a program that handles almost $3 million each year and supports 14 varsity sports.

Final decisions on any changes is up to the board of trustees.

Football, which this season drew an average of 81,000 fans a game, is the big income producer. Tickets to home games alone brought in $1.6 million this year. Ohio State kept about $1 million, paid the rest to visiting teams.

Football income exceeded the total budget for all sports of $1.5 million. But the athletic department budget includes another $877,000 for administrative expenses—including about $275,000 for administrative expenses —including about $275,000 in grants to athletes plus $265,000 to operate a university golf course and miscellaneous expenses such as $69,500 on bonds which financed construction of a basketball arena.

The total athletic income this year was budgeted at $2.9 million. Expenditures were budgeted at $2.8 million, but a drop in revenue from the Buckeyes' three road football games means the budget will just about balance this year.

The projection for the next two years would be for a deficit without additional income, Bernard said.

Football is the most expensive sport to support, but the athletic program includes intercollegiate competition in ice hockey, lacrosse and gymnastics, as well as more popular sports, and also supports volleyball and pistol shooting teams.

The football budget this year was $213,400. But that did not count salaries of coaches — another $196,000—or medical bills, student fees for players and many other expenses.

Football has $132,000 a year for grants.

Under consideration is a proposal to raise general public tickets from $5 to $6 a game, to bring in another $125,000 with six home games and to boost faculty season tickets from $14 to $18 and student tickets from $12 to $14, which would produce about $90,000 a year.

Alcindor Has Biggest Lead In Five Seasons

NEW YORK (AP) — Sophomore sensation Lew Alcindor of UCLA boasts the biggest scoring lead any major college basketball player has amassed in five seasons.

The 7-foot-1 transplanted New Yorker enjoys a whopping 7.8 points per game margin over runner-up Bob Lloyd of Rutgers, according to figures released by the NCAA Service Bureau today. Records include games through Sat. Dec. 17.

Alcindor, who ends an 11-day vacation tonight when he plays at home against Colorado State U., is averaging 37.7 as compared to 29.9 for Lloyd, a 6-foot-1 senior.

Elected By NAIA

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Eddie Robinson, athletic director and football coach with a 25-year record of 161 victories, 61 losses and 10 ties at Grambling, La., College, has been elected to the NAIA Executive Committee.

Shrine Game Players Eye Pro Salaries

In question is the merger of the National Football League and the American Football League.

"The lack of bidding is sure to hurt us," UCLA All-America halfback Mel Farr said Wednesday. "But I don't think they can drop the salaries too far the first year."

"The pros have to consider how it would look," continued Farr. "You know, the antitrust laws and so forth."

Clint Jones of Michigan State, another All-America halfback, said he would not follow other players and hire a negotiator or a lawyer.

"What's the use," Jones said. "There's only one club making the offer. Sure the merger will cause them to try to sign us cheap. I don't have to play football if the bids are too low."

There were 52 players arriving to start practice for the Shrine game Dec. 31 at Kezar Stadium.

Super Bowl's Ticket Orders Hit 21,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Super Bowl — championship of the two professional football leagues—has received 21,000 orders for tickets in two days.

The first contest matching the winners of the National and American football leagues will be played Jan. 15 in the 92,000-seat Memorial Coliseum.

A spokesman said the ticket demand was the heaviest in Coliseum history for a short period of time.

Stiffer Penalties Due In Assaulting Officials

NEW YORK (AP) — The Eastern Hockey League will levy stiffer penalties on players who assault officials, EHL President Tom Lockhart announced Wednesday.

The EHL Board of Governors, concerned over recent incidents, doubled fines for a first offense to $100 — plus three days suspension — and called for an indefinite suspension after a second offense.

Patriots' Nance Is MVP In AFL

By MIKE RATHET

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Nance, the bruising Boston fullback who stopped looking in the mirror for Jim Brown and started shedding weight for Mike Holovak, was named today the Most Valuable Player in the American Football League by The Associated Press.

Nance romped off with the honor just as he did with the AFL's rushing record, polling 20 of the 27 votes cast in The AP poll by three-man committees of sportwriters and sportcasters in each of the nine league cities.

His only competition came from Kansas City quarterback Len Dawson, who guided the Chiefs to the Western Division crown, and his own teammate, linebacker Nick Buoniconti. Dawson received six votes and Buoniconti one.

But Nance completely outdistanced the field by easily breaking the league rushing record and finishing with a total of 1,458 yards gained on the ground —a record unmatched by any sophomore pro with the exception of Brown, who gained 1,527 yards for Cleveland of the National League.

Before Nance could do that, however, he had to start thinking about the weight he was carrying around—both physically and mentally. The mental aspect came from the comparisons made between Brown and Nance, who followed in his footsteps at Syracuse University.

And so Nance went virtually nowhere on the ground in his rookie year last season while his weight went virtually everywhere on his body — and before he knew it he was up around 245 pounds and benched by Coach Holovak. But he did begin to make the transformation in the final four games.

"I forgot Jimmy Brown and the comparisons and for the first time in months I wanted to play football," Nance says honestly. "As for the weight I wasn't playing much — not concentrating on what I was doing — and the weight kept going up while I didn't even notice it."

This year, at a not-so-svelte but oh-so-effective 235 pounds, Nance gained 100 yards or more in eight games and bettered the 200-yard mark on two occasions while bettering the league rushing record of 1,121 yards set by Paul Lowe.

Football Relations Between East Liverpool, Salem Ended

The grid rivalry between East Liverpool and Salem, one of the oldest in the state, has ended.

A two - year contract proposed by the Salem Athletic Board has been turned down by the East Liverpool Athletic Board, Clifford Lynch, principal confirmed today.

Salem proposed the new two-year contract between the two schools start with the game being played at Salem next season. The two schools played at Salem this past season.

"The fact that Salem requested the game to be played again in 1967 at Salem was not acceptable to the East Liverpool Athletic Board," Lynch said.

SALEM officials requested the first game be played at Salem because of what they termed "unfair treatment by East Liverpool fans and students" during the 1965 game at East Liverpool and because Salem was not given an opportunity to approve the officials for that contest, which they pointed out was not in keeping with the regulations of the Ohio High School Athletic Association.

Salem Principal Wayne Grinnen said: "While the Salem - East Liverpool rivalry and friendship has always been a fine thing in the past, we feel that to go back to East Liverpool under the same conditions at the present time would be subjecting our students, our team, our band and our adult followers to unnecessary risk and danger."

SALEM officials claimed that the Quaker banner, which was placed on the wall in front of the Salem cheerleaders, was pulled off and trampled three different times by East Liverpool followers. The police ignored the request of the cheerleaders' adviser for assistance.

Even though East Liverpool won 46-13, their fans and students insulted and shoved some Salem students and fans during the contest, Salem charges.

In the contract sent to East Liverpool, Salem requested that the 1967 game be played at Salem and then the Quakers would return to East Liverpool in 1968.

—:—

IT ALSO requested that for future games a list of 40 officials be submitted from each school to a neutral person so he could select officials from both lists for the games.

If the initial list weren't suitable, then a second was to be sent and finally if no agreement could be reached, the commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Association was to choose the officials.

THIS MARKS the sixth school in the immediate area which has discontinued grid relations with East Liverpool since Bob McNea, head football coach, has been athletic director at ELHS.

Others who have ended relations are Steubenville Big Red, Toronto, Wellsville, Beaver Local and Oak Glen.

Salem and East Liverpool's gridiron rivalry dates back to 1911. The Potters own a 28-21-2 edge in the series. East Liverpool defeated Salem this past season 12-0.

Vanderbilt Led By Campbell's 38

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kenny Campbell probably will remember the night of Dec. 21, 1966 all his life.

Starting for the first time in his college career, Campbell threw in 38 points to lead the 10th-ranked Vanderbilt Commodores to a 116-92 basketball victory over Northwestern.

A 6-footer from Oak Ridge, Tenn., the 21-year-old Campbell hit on 17 of 26 field goal attempts to tie a Vandy record in the game at Nashville.

Campbell's feat made him the Wednesday college basketball player of the night. His performance overshadowed the return to action tonight of the UCLA Bruins, top-ranked in The Associated Press poll, and Lew Alcindor, their prize 7-foot-1 sophomore.

UCLA and Alcindor play host to the Colorado State University Rams in the Bruins' first game since routing Duke nearly two weeks ago.

Louisville, No. 2 in the AP poll, No. 5 Michigan State and No. 6 New Mexico also chalked up victories on a night replete with intersectional contests.

Playing at home, Louisville defeated St. Louis 75-68. On the road, Michigan State bounced back from its Tuesday setback by New Orleans Loyola, to whip Tulane 76-66 and the New Mexico Lobos beat Creighton at Omaha 79-68.

Illinois smothered Stanford 81-67, Toledo routed Duquesne 89-58, Oklahoma City downed Baylor 103-89, Purdue took Army in overtime 79-69, Iowa humbled California 72-62, Drake upset Colorado 77-72 and Tulsa overcame Utah State 67-52. All were home court triumphs.

Iowa State exploded for 62 points in the second half to whip Texas 101-87 for the championship of the Sun Devil Classic at Tempe, Ariz., Boston College beat Massachusetts 75-67 in the final of the Boston Garden Invitational and Akron won the Rubber City Classic in its home town by downing Bucknell 87-60.

OSU May Raise Price Of Gridiron Tickets

Ohio State University may have to raise football ticket prices to keep its $3 million athletic program financially sound, even though its gridiron crowds are the nation's largest.

The Buckeye athletic department is being squeezed by rising prices without an increase in income.

"We can't do much better on attendance, so how are you going to get more revenue without raising prices?," asked E. Bernard, the athletic department's business manager who keeps the books on a program that handles almost $3 million each year and supports 14 varsity sports.

Final decisions on any changes is up to the board of trustees.

Football, which this season drew an average of 81,000 fans a game, is the big income producer. Tickets to home games alone brought in $1.6 million this year. Ohio State kept about $1 million, paid the rest to visiting teams.

Football income exceeded the total budget for all sports of $1.5 million. But the athletic department budget includes another $877,000 for administrative expenses—including about $275,000 for administrative expenses—including about $275,000 in grants to athletes plus $265,000 to operate a university golf course and miscellaneous expenses such as $69,500 on bonds which financed construction of a basketball arena.

The total athletic income this year was budgeted at $2.9 million. Expenditures were budgeted at $2.8 million, but a drop in revenue from the Buckeyes' three road football games means the budget will just about balance this year.

The projection for the next two years would be for a deficit without additional income, Bernard said.

Football is the most expensive sport to support, but the athletic program includes intercollegiate competition in ice hockey, lacrosse and gymnastics, as well as more popular sports, and also supports volleyball and pistol shooting teams.

The football budget this year was $213,400. But that did not count salaries of coaches — another $196,000—or medical bills, student fees for players and many other expenses.

Football has $132,000 a year for grants.

Under consideration is a proposal to raise general public tickets from $5 to $6 a game, to bring in another $125,000 with six home games and to boost faculty season tickets from $14 to $18 and student tickets from $12 to $14, which would produce about $90,000 a year.

Alcindor Has Biggest Lead In Five Seasons

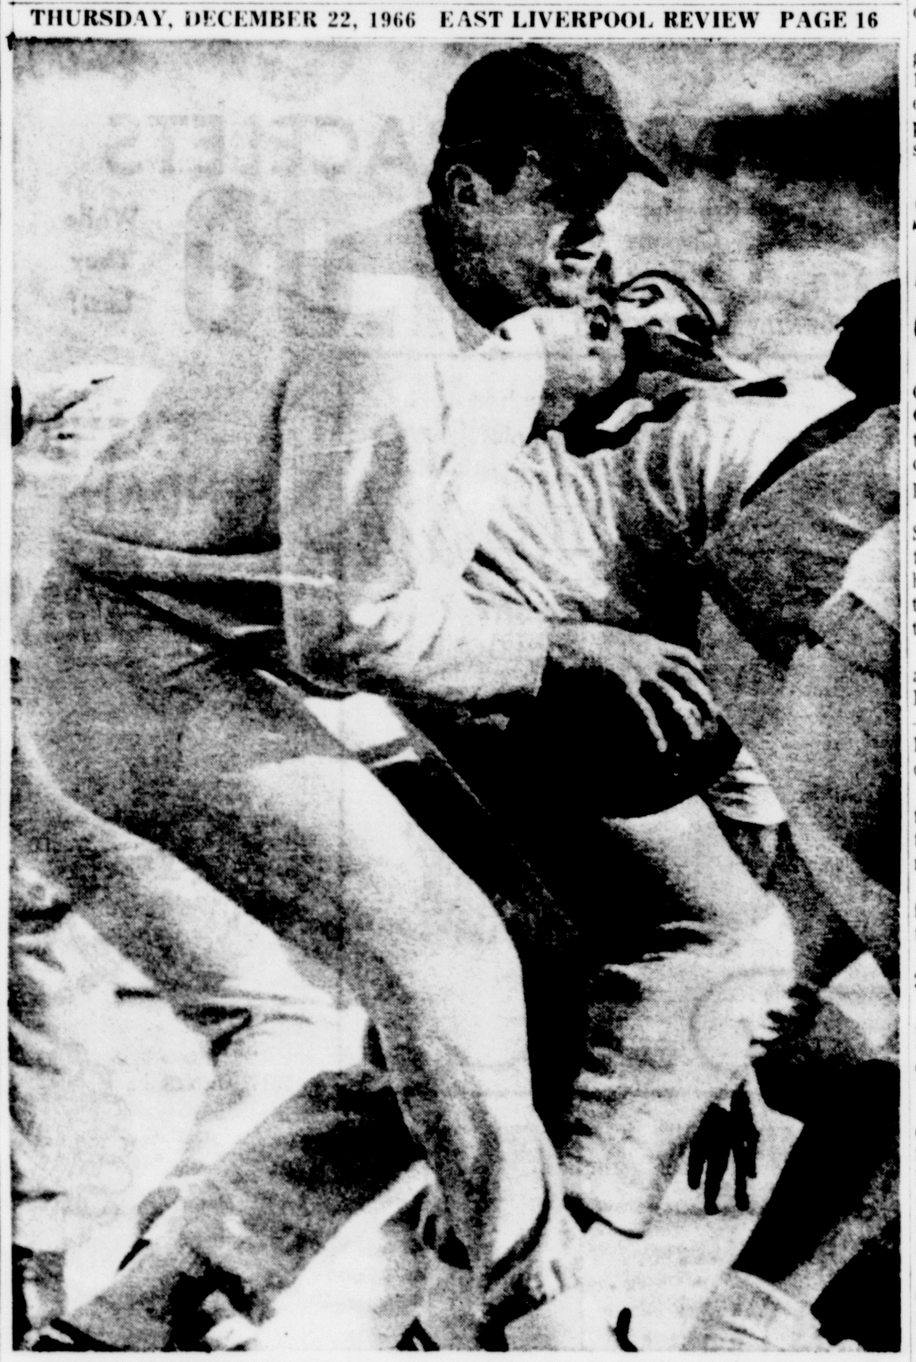
NEW YORK (AP) — Sophomore sensation Lew Alcindor of UCLA boasts the biggest scoring lead any major college basketball player has amassed in five seasons.

The 7-foot-1 transplanted New Yorker enjoys a whopping 7.8 points per game margin over runner-up Bob Lloyd of Rutgers, according to figures released by the NCAA Service Bureau today. Records include games through Sat. Dec. 17.

Alcindor, who ends an 11-day vacation tonight when he plays at home against Colorado State U., is averaging 37.7 as compared to 29.9 for Lloyd, a 6-foot-1 senior.

Elected By NAIA

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Eddie Robinson, athletic director and football coach with a 25-year record of 161 victories, 61 losses and 10 ties at Grambling, La., College, has been elected to the NAIA Executive Committee.



COWBOY QUARTERBACK Don Meredith joined the club Wednesday as they began workouts for their Jan. 1 meeting with Green Bay in the NFL Championship game. Meredith was injured in the Washington game Dec. 11 and did not play against the Giants, last Sunday. He was stricken with severe stomach cramps and taken to a local hospital for tests but was released Wednesday. (UPI Telephoto)

Shrine Game Players Eye Pro Salaries

In question is the merger of the National Football League and the American Football League.

"The lack of bidding is sure to hurt us," UCLA All-America halfback Mel Farr said Wednesday. "But I don't think they can drop the salaries too far the first year."

"The pros have to consider how it would look," continued Farr. "You know, the antitrust laws and so forth."

Clint Jones of Michigan State, another All-America halfback, said he would not follow other players and hire a negotiator or a lawyer.

"What's the use," Jones said. "There's only one club making the offer. Sure the merger will cause them to try to sign us cheap. I don't have to play football if the bids are too low."

There were 52 players arriving to start practice for the Shrine game Dec. 31 at Kezar Stadium.

Super Bowl's Ticket Orders Hit 21,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Super Bowl — championship of the two professional football leagues—has received 21,000 orders for tickets in two days.

The first contest matching the winners of the National and American football leagues will be played Jan. 15 in the 92,000-seat Memorial Coliseum.

A spokesman said the ticket demand was the heaviest in Coliseum history for a short period of time.

Stiffer Penalties Due In Assaulting Officials

NEW YORK (AP) — The Eastern Hockey League will levy stiffer penalties on players who assault officials, EHL President Tom Lockhart announced Wednesday.

The EHL Board of Governors, concerned over recent incidents, doubled fines for a first offense to $100 — plus three days suspension — and called for an indefinite suspension after a second offense.

Starr Must Face Front 4 Of Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys' chances of beating Green Bay Jan. 1 for the National Football League championship might well hinge on the performance of their front four.

For the information of Bart Starr, Green Bay's great quarterback, this fearsome foursome has been doing things to quarterbacks that disconcert them, to put it mildly.

The quartet — George Andrie and Willie Townes at ends, Bobb Lilly and Jim Colvin at tackles —set a National Football League record for trapping the quarterback this year.

They did it 60 times during the season, three times more than the record set by Baltimore in 1964.

Negro Quarterback To Direct South Team

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Negro quarterback will direct the South attack for the first time Monday when college all-star teams tangle in the Orange Bowl in the 19th annual North-South football game.

This will be Hank Washington, 6-foot-3, 205-pound West Texas State passer who was fifth in the nation during the past season with a completion average of 58 per cent.

Washington led the country in total offense until hurting his arm late in the year.

South Coach Darrell Royal of Texas said he would open at quarterback with Bo Burris of Houston but Washington will see half the action.

Toledo 'Rockets' To 6th Straight

By The Associated Press

Toledo is on top in the Mid-American Conference basketball race by virtue of winning the only December game on the conference schedule. But that virtually meaningless lead is looking bigger and bigger.

The young Rockets are beating everybody. They remained undefeated Wednesday night as Duquesne became victim No. 6 by an 89-58 score.

Sophomores Steve Mix and John Brisker, with 24 and 20 points respectively, led Toledo against the Dukes. As a team, the Rockets shot 56 per cent from the field.

When MAC play resumes Jan. 4, the Rockets get the chance to convince any remaining sceptics. They face preseason conference favorite Bowling Green on the Falcons' court. Toledo's 1-0 MAC record to date is from a 103-91 decision over Marshall last Saturday.

In Ohio-based holiday tournaments, Akron proved a horid host by swamping Bucknell 87-60 in the finals of the Rubber City Classic and Grove City Classic and Grove City and Steubenville moved into the finals of the Quaker City Tournament at New Philadelphia. Cleveland State scored an 85-83 overtime win over Indiana State (Pa.) in the loser's Christmas Tree Tournament.

Tall Bill Turner scored 21 points for Akron in the Zips' latest runaway. The point-difference was as high as 33 points late in the game.

Larry Osborne led Steubenville on a second half comeback that brought a 67-63 overtime over Defiance. He also led the scoring with 17 points.

Cleveland moved into tonight's finals in the Indiana, Pa., tourney when Ed Williams made a lay-up just before the end of the overtime battle with Indiana State. The Ohioans meet Cheyney State (Pa.) in the finals.

Namath To Undergo 2nd Operation On Bad Knee

NEW YORK (AP) — "I want to have it done," Joe Namath said.

Next week, the New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback will get his wish — his right knee will be operated on for the second time and Namath will lose a lateral cartilage that was torn in August during an exhibition game.

"I don't have any doubts the operation will be a success," Namath said from his mother's home in Beaver Falls, Pa., where he is spending the holidays. "It couldn't come out any worse and we're hoping the operation will make it better."

Namath's first operation was in January, 1965, for the removal of cartilage on the inside of the knee. The forthcoming operation is for outside cartilage.

Actually, the operation could be even more extensive. A team of three doctors will decide when Namath enters Lenox Hill Hospital whether to attempt more serious ligament surgery to give the knee more stability.

Originally, Jets' owner Sonny Werblin and Coach Weeb Ewbank were against the operation, though it was obvious Namath was not in top shape. But, on Monday, a routine examination of Namath's knee revealed the torn cartilage.

"It bothers me all the time," Namath said. "It's not a constant pain, but the knee is stiff when I stand up and walk, and it takes a few steps before it loosens up."

Namath said he expects to spend about two weeks in the hospital, from four to six weeks in a cast and then four or five months recuperating and exercising the knee.

Namath performed well during the season just completed — connecting on 232 of 471 passes for 3,379 yards and 19 touchdowns. But he was hampered by lack of mobility, the inability to escape when opposing linemen broke through the Jets' pass protection. He had 27 passes intercepted.

Penalty Given To 3 Drivers

Three motorists were fined today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on charges filed by the State Highway Patrol and three more forfeited appearance bonds.

Francis M. Smith of Toronto and Larry J. Tice, 18, of Dome St. drew penalties of $10 and costs each on speeding charges. Smith was cited on Route 7 Monday at 9:05 p. m. on a charge of driving 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. Pleading "no contest," he told the judge he was unaware the speed limit dropped automatically at sundown.

Tice was cited Dec. 10 at 7:30 p. m. on a charge of driving 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7. He pleaded guilty.

Charles W. Hoppel of R.D. 3 was fined $25 and costs after the judge convicted him on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way when pulling onto County Rd. 430 from a private driveway. Hoppel, cited Aug. 29, pleaded not guilty on Sept. 6.

Worthy L. Chambers of Indianapolis and Glen A. Jordan of Columbus, Ga., forfeited $17.50 bonds on speeding charges filed by the patrol Wednesday after their arrests on the Freeway. Chambers was accused of driving 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone and Jordan was charged with driving 70 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone.

Albert J. Vensel of Louisville, Ohio, forfeited a $32.50 bond on a charge of driving 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited at 1:15 this morning on Route 30 by the patrol.

Striking Hockey Players Study Attorney's Advice

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — The defiant Springfield Indians appeared ready to accept advice of counsel and end a rebellion today against Eddie Shore, hard-nosed owner of the American Hockey League club.

The Indians, who walked out in protest of player suspensions Monday, returned to the ice for a one-hour nonsupervised practice Wednesday as Shore tried to obtain other players for a game with Providence Friday night.

The squad worked out after representatives conferred by telephone with Alan Eagleson, a Toronto attorney who represents many hockey stars as individuals. Eagleson later flew to Springfield.

"I advised the players that they must practice and play Friday night's game, and otherwise honor their contracts," Eagleson said.

Eagleson said he hoped to meet with Shore. However, the fiery club owner, still as tough talking as he was during days as a hard-hitting National Hockey League defenseman, gave no assurance he would see the lawyer.

The Indians have demanded that Shore reinstate four suspended players.

Defensemen Dale Rolfe, Bill White and Dave Amadio were suspended for alleged "indifferent play" Sunday after the club's fourth straight defeat. Veteran forward Brian Kilrea was suspended on the same grounds after the walkout.

Rodgers Big Assist With Chicago Fire

If the Chicago Bulls finally do nail down that playoff spot they are trying for, Guy Rodgers' assistance will be a big factor.

Rodgers had 24 assists Wednesday night — a National Basketball Association high for the year — in leading the Bulls to their fifth consecutive victory, 110-107 over the New York Knickerbockers at Chicago.

Rodgers leads the league in assists with just over 11 per game, and he passed the Knicks just dizzy enough for the Bulls to withstand a final New York rush at victory in the closing minutes.

The Bulls led 95-71 early in the fourth quarter, but with Willis Reed and Howard Komives each scoring 12 points in the final period, the Knicks closed the gap to three points with 39 seconds left.

But the fourth-place Bulls stalled out the remaining seconds and moved just one game away from Detroit, third in the Western Division, and two games back of runner-up St. Louis.

In other NBA games, St. Louis beat Baltimore 118-108 at Charleston, W. Va., and Philadelphia turned back San Francisco 129-123 on the West Coast.

Kicker Could Be Difference For Wyoming

Whacker Jerry DePoyster is the Wyoming kicking specialist who might play a key role in Saturday's Sun Bowl football game against Florida State.

DePoyster split the uprights with 13 field goals and 32 extra points for 71 points this season, the high on Wyoming's 9-1 Western Athletic Conference champion team.

"If we're not eating up the yardage around their 40," said Eaton, "we might as well give it a whack."

DePoyster kicked three 54-yard field goals and another for 52 yards during the Cowpokes' season. The 6-foot-2 junior also handles the punting, averaging 40 yards per kick. His longest punt was 77 yards last year.

Dispute May Halt Start At Santa Anita

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An official at Santa Anita race track says: "I doubt if we'll be racing this season."

And no negotiations between management and the Building Service Employes union are scheduled today in the contract dispute.

In any case, a Santa Anita spokesman said, the scheduled Dec. 26 opening of the Arcadia, Calif., track and Bay Meadows in San Mateo, Calif., will be delayed. "It's impossible to open Monday," he said.

Negotiators reached an impasse when the union rejected what the tracks called their final offer, and management turned down a counterproposal.

Management's three-year contract offer included daily wage increases of $1, $1, and 75 cents, plus additional health and welfare benefits totaling $5.

Judge Lectures Operator Of Bus In Patrol Charge

Ollie O. Monroe of 2001 Michigan Ave., cited by the State Highway Patrol Wednesday night on a charge of operating a transit bus without tail lights, was lectured today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on other alleged defects in the vehicle noted by the patrol.

Monroe was fined $10 and costs on the patrol's charge. He was cited last night at 9 at the junction of Routes 170 and 30 while operating a Tri-State Transit Co. bus, the patrol said.

The officer also noted: No turn signals, no clearance lights, four bald tires on the rear wheels and the rear of the bus "so dirty that the reflectors were not visible." Monroe blamed the inoperative tail lights on a blown-out fuse.

After reading the patrolman's note on the affidavit, the judge said: "No wonder your company doesn't do any business. A person would be taking his life After imposing the fine, he warned Monroe that "the next time those buses won't operate until those defects are cleaned up."

Patrol Probes School Bus And Auto Mishap

A minor collision involving a car and a school bus carrying pupils to St. Aloysius Catholic School from the Glenmoor area was being investigated this morning by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said the mishap occurred on Route 267 about a half-mile south of Glenmoor. No one was injured, first reports to the patrol indicated.

400 Welfare Workers Go Out On Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Nearly 400 Cuyahoga County welfare workers walked off their jobs today after breaking off a meeting with representatives of the county commissioners Wednesday.

The workers, members of Local 1746, State, County and Municipal Employes Union, plan mass picketing of the three main county welfare department offices and the downtown county administration building.

The welfare workers have made six demands—wage adjustments; a signed grievance procedure; better working conditions; a signed statement by Welfare Director Eugene F. Burns that he will not influence employes against joining the union; reduction of work loads and changes in classification.

The welfare department says it plans to keep all offices open and provide emergency service to some 27,000 clients.

The union is primarily made up of social service workers who deal directly with clients. Its total membership is 525, or about one-third of the 1,500 employes in the department.

The county commissioners Wednesday tried to head off the strike by agreeing to an afternoon meeting and appointing a three-man committee to negotiate.

The committee proposed a 10-day cooling off period and further negotiations. The union said it had been promised a private meeting and protested the presence of newsmen.

Canadiens Trip Toronto By 6-2

By The Associated Press

The long-standing feud between the Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs is a perfect arrangement for Yvan Cournoyer.

The Canadiens and Leafs, who set a barrage of Stanley Cup brawling records during the National Hockey League playoffs last spring, went at it again Wednesday night, much to Cournoyer's delight.

The slight right winger, who gets on the ice only on power plays, converted three times while Toronto was short-handed and led the Canadiens to a 6-2 victory over the Leafs.

In other games, New York and Chicago both won and remained tied for the NHL lead. The Rangers got two goals from Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion and walloped Boston 5-1 while the Black Hawks got a pair from Bobby Hull and handed Detroit its 14th straight road loss, 6-4.

Torres, Elorde Ruled Out From New York Ring

NEW YORK (AP) — Jose Torres and Flash Elorde both got bad news from the New York State Athletic Commission, but it's a good bet Torres will fight again in New York. Elorde, however, may be through.

At the same time the commission placed Torres, who lost his light heavyweight title to Dick Tiger last Friday night, on the "ill and unavailable" list.

Elorde said he was considering retiring after the Ortiz bout. The commission's decision may spur his decision, since he now cannot fight in New York. It will be up to the Filipino Commission — and Elorde — to decide if he will continue to fight elsewhere.

Torres lost a 15-round decision to Tiger and the commission placed him on the list because of his poor performance and "his recent history of relapsing pancreatitis."

Namath To Undergo 2nd Operation On Bad Knee

NEW YORK (AP) — "I want to have it done," Joe Namath said.

Next week, the New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback will get his wish — his right knee will be operated on for the second time and Namath will lose a lateral cartilage that was torn in August during an exhibition game.

"I don't have any doubts the operation will be a success," Namath said from his mother's home in Beaver Falls, Pa., where he is spending the holidays. "It couldn't come out any worse and we're hoping the operation will make it better."

Namath's first operation was in January, 1965, for the removal of cartilage on the inside of the knee. The forthcoming operation is for outside cartilage.

Actually, the operation could be even more extensive. A team of three doctors will decide when Namath enters Lenox Hill Hospital whether to attempt more serious ligament surgery to give the knee more stability.

Originally, Jets' owner Sonny Werblin and Coach Weeb Ewbank were against the operation, though it was obvious Namath was not in top shape. But, on Monday, a routine examination of Namath's knee revealed the torn cartilage.

"It bothers me all the time," Namath said. "It's not a constant pain, but the knee is stiff when I stand up and walk, and it takes a few steps before it loosens up."

Namath said he expects to spend about two weeks in the hospital, from four to six weeks in a cast and then four or five months recuperating and exercising the knee.

Namath performed well during the season just completed — connecting on 232 of 471 passes for 3,379 yards and 19 touchdowns. But he was hampered by lack of mobility, the inability to escape when opposing linemen broke through the Jets' pass protection. He had 27 passes intercepted.

Striking Hockey Players Study Attorney's Advice

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — The defiant Springfield Indians appeared ready to accept advice of counsel and end a rebellion today against Eddie Shore, hard-nosed owner of the American Hockey League club.

The Indians, who walked out in protest of player suspensions Monday, returned to the ice for a one-hour nonsupervised practice Wednesday as Shore tried to obtain other players for a game with Providence Friday night.

The squad worked out after representatives conferred by telephone with Alan Eagleson, a Toronto attorney who represents many hockey stars as individuals. Eagleson later flew to Springfield.

"I advised the players that they must practice and play Friday night's game, and otherwise honor their contracts," Eagleson said.

Eagleson said he hoped to meet with Shore. However, the fiery club owner, still as tough talking as he was during days as a hard-hitting National Hockey League defenseman, gave no assurance he would see the lawyer.

The Indians have demanded that Shore reinstate four suspended players.

Defensemen Dale Rolfe, Bill White and Dave Amadio were suspended for alleged "indifferent play" Sunday after the club's fourth straight defeat. Veteran forward Brian Kilrea was suspended on the same grounds after the walkout.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jose Torres and Flash Elorde both got bad news from the New York State Athletic Commission, but it's a good bet Torres will fight again in New York. Elorde, however, may be through.

At the same time the commission placed Torres, who lost his light heavyweight title to Dick Tiger last Friday night, on the "ill and unavailable" list.

Elorde said he was considering retiring after the Ortiz bout. The commission's decision may spur his decision, since he now cannot fight in New York. It will be up to the Filipino Commission — and Elorde — to decide if he will continue to fight elsewhere.

Torres lost a 15-round decision to Tiger and the commission placed him on the list because of his poor performance and "his recent history of relapsing pancreatitis."

Charles W. Hoppel of R.D. 3 was fined $25 and costs after the judge convicted him on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way when pulling onto County Rd. 430 from a private driveway. Hoppel, cited Aug. 29, pleaded not guilty on Sept. 6.

Worthy L. Chambers of Indianapolis and Glen A. Jordan of Columbus, Ga., forfeited $17.50 bonds on speeding charges filed by the patrol Wednesday after their arrests on the Freeway. Set For Holiday Period

Various Matters Mark Meeting Of Chester Council

Plans for the coming holiday period were put into effect and other matters discussed during the meeting of Chester Council Wednesday night at the chambers in City Hall.

Mayor Burton G. Ward, who presided, reported that clubs and taverns customarily close at 6 p. m. on Christmas Eve and announced that "all available men will be on duty" New Year's Eve.

WARD ADDED that corrective measures have been taken following complaints of after-hours activity at the "Basin Street," on Route 66 in lower Chester, also known as the Holiday Lounge.

"Things are real quiet down there now," he said, but did not specify what action had been carried out.

Clerk - Treasurer Donald Hood reported he has not yet received a reply to a letter sent to Jiffy Steak Co. in Saltsburg, Pa., and the firm's insurance company relative to the removal of several ovens at the site of the former Goddard Bakery Co., which burned down Nov. 9.

Frank Mangano, owner of the building, appearing before Council at the Dec. 12 meeting, pointed out that the debris would be cleared away when the ovens are removed.

A discussion was held on the placement of railroad cars along tracks within the city following receipt of complaints of noise and hazards. Hood reported receiving notice from a railroad official that a letter he, Hood, had written earlier regarding the matter had been forwarded to higher authorities.

AN EARLIER suggestion that the second floor of the City Building might be converted into office space for rental was given further consideration. It was emphasized that potential users should be obtained before concrete steps are taken.

The possibility of remodeling the downstairs of the building for rental and using the upper floor for Council meetings also was discussed.

It was pointed out that maintenance for the City Building now requires about 10 per cent of the budget and that the rental fees would assist in enabling the building to pay for itself.

Councilman Percy Willison, street department chairman, reported repairs made to streets were required.

MAYOR WARD requested that a letter be written to John Egan, a Weirton representative of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., concerning continued complaints of inadequate repairs to George St. following excavation for installation of gas lines.

It was announced that the 30-day trial period for placing traffic signals along the Carolina Ave. portion of Route 30 on a "blinking basis" from 1 to 7 a.m. will begin Jan. 1.

The lights at 1st and 3rd Sts. will not be included, but will function as during daylight hours.

Remittances of $388.75 were ordered turned into the city treasury. Bills totaling $1,044.65 were approved for payment.

Councilmen in attendance were Robert Kincaid, Willison and Richard Johnston.

Samuel Kistler, a member of the area development department, has been assigned as coordinator for the participating communities in the Monongahela Power service area.

The Community Betterment Competition, which is being referred to as ComBet, is being conducted by the West Virginia Chamber of Commerce and its cooperating sponsors.

The purpose of the program is to improve the economy of West Virginia cities and towns with a program in which all communities can participate. FTC To Study Newspapers' Advertising

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission plans to investigate newspaper advertising for possible discriminatory practices.

The FTC plan was outlined by Chairman Paul Rand Dixon in a letter to Rep. Clarence Brown Jr., R-Ohio, who sent a constituent's complaint to the regulatory agency.

One aspect of the inquiry, which is only in the preliminary stage, will be to determine whether some newspapers offer different advertising rates to local and national clients and, if so, whether this violates the antitrust laws.

But a commission spokesman said today the inquiry won't be limited to that.

"Any type of discrimination will be investigated," he explained. "If some large advertiser is given a special rate, we'd be interested in looking at that."

The commission's job, the spokesman said, will be first to determine if there are discriminatory rates and, if there are, whether they violate the Clayton Antitrust Act which bars unfair methods of competition and restraint of trade.

No hearing has been scheduled by the commission which is now getting ready to gather facts in its inquiry. A hearing is possible later.

One possibility could be mailing questionnaires to newspapers.

The fact-finding aspect also could be handled by the commission's regional offices.

4 Children Are Killed In Akron Blaze

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Four children, 4-years-old and under, died in a minor fire Wednesday night at an East Side government apartment complex.

The mother carried two children outside but she and a neighbor couldn't get back to an upstairs bedroom because of heavy smoke. Firemen found the other youngsters, one at the foot of a bed and one under it.

They were identified as Anthony W. Chatman, 4; Laura Lee Brown, 1; Kenneth Brown, 3, and Stacy Brown, 2, children of Mrs. Janice Brown.

Neighbors said Mrs. Brown was visiting another neighbor, Mrs. Mary Rollins, and discovered the fire when she returned to the apartment.

Mrs. Brown suffered foot burns and was treated at Children's Hospital, where Laura Lee and Anthony were dead on arrival.

Kenneth and Stacy were dead on arrival at St. Thomas Hospital.

Fire Chief Gerald Vernotzy said the fire apparently started in the downstairs davenport, but the cause was not immediately determined. The smoke apparently swept upstairs and suffocated the children. A wall behind the davenport was damaged.

Mrs. Kennedy's Sister Awaits Theater Debut

LONDON (AP) — The dark-eyed young woman in the salmon pink above-the-knee dress tossed her head and said with just a little bravado in her low, husky voice:

"I'm taking a terrible risk. But I think I shall make it."

This is the way Lee Radziwill, the former Caroline Lee Bouvier, sums up her coming debut in show business.

The 33-year-old sister of Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of Prince Stanislas Radziwill and mother of two children, will stride onto the boards of the Ivanhoe Theater in Chicago next June to play the leading role of Tracy Lord in "The Philadelphia Story."

She flies to Chicago from her London home June 9 for rehearsals and the play opens June 20 for a four-week run.

The role is that of a wealthy young heiress, not exactly foreign to her as it wasn't to Katherine Hepburn when she made it famous.

"I've always wanted to be an actress," Lee Radziwill said in an interview. "At school and in college I did some things. But then I married, and then I had children, and then there were the political years."

The "political years" were those when John F. Kennedy her brother-in-law, was President of the United States and Lee Radziwill was her sister's confidante and frequent traveling companion.

"Now I feel I can make a good try," she said. "But for heaven's sake, do not call me Princess Radziwill. I am Lee Radziwill."

What does the Kennedy clan think of this new venture? Mrs. Radziwill balked at answering. She would say only one thing about her intimate association with the Kennedys:

"I hate touch football."

Dog Quarantine Will End Friday For Newell Area

The quarantine against dogs in Newell will be lifted Friday morning, John Biela of New Cumberland, Hancock County dog warden, announced today.

It has been in effect four weeks. All dogs were confined after a child was bitten by her pet, which later died of rabies. The child underwent a series of shots.

Biela said dogs and cats from other areas were sent to Charleston for testing, but none had rabies.

During the quarantine, any dog running loose could have been shot on sight whether licensed or not.

Now dogs with license and rabies tags will be allowed to run at large without the danger of being destroyed. But Biela reminded owners they are responsible for any damage done by their pets.

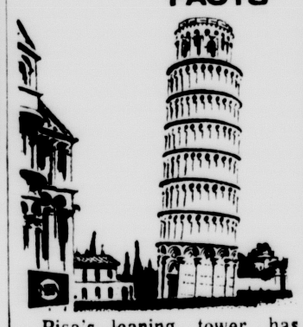
WORLD ALMANAC FACTS



Pisa's leaning tower has been leaning almost from the moment construction began in 1174, according to The World Almanac. To offset the tilt, architects built the upper stories at an angle that gives the tower an odd backcurve. After many delays, the eight-story building was finally completed in 1350 — 176 years after work first started. Today the tower leans 14 feet 4 inches from the perpendicular.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Christmas is coming and Judge Harry Neubarth's admirers have sent him another friendly card.

Happy holidays from Shotgun Brunson, Sam the Shuck, Peter O'Dooley — done in by a stoolie — and 73 others.

The lads are all convicts Neubarth has sentenced to Folsom State Prison from his bench in San Francisco Superior Court.

Dog Quarantine Will End Friday For Newell Area

The quarantine against dogs in Newell will be lifted Friday morning, John Biela of New Cumberland, Hancock County dog warden, announced today.

It has been in effect four weeks. All dogs were confined after a child was bitten by her pet, which later died of rabies. The child underwent a series of shots.

Biela said dogs and cats from other areas were sent to Charleston for testing, but none had rabies.

During the quarantine, any dog running loose could have been shot on sight whether licensed or not.

Now dogs with license and rabies tags will be allowed to run at large without the danger of being destroyed. But Biela reminded owners they are responsible for any damage done by their pets.

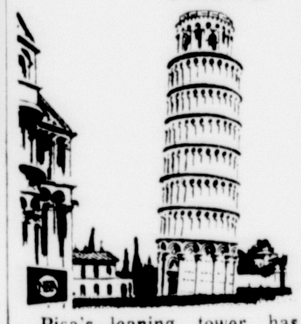
WORLD ALMANAC FACTS



Pisa's leaning tower has been leaning almost from the moment construction began in 1174, according to The World Almanac. To offset the tilt, architects built the upper stories at an angle that gives the tower an odd backcurve. After many delays, the eight-story building was finally completed in 1350 — 176 years after work first started. Today the tower leans 14 feet 4 inches from the perpendicular.

Driver Fined $40

SALINEVILLE — Billy Bridge of Wood St. has been fined $40 and costs by Mayor Stanley Fitch on charges of reckless operation and excessive noise from his vehicle.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By Lucrece Beale

Billy drops the ghost tears in the soup and the giants turn into pigs. The magic potion will not work on Goko, so Billy places the ruby necklace where the giant will find it.

CHAPTER 16

Goko looked at himself in the mirror over the fireplace. He reached up to fasten the ruby necklace around his throat. The fire of the ruby was reflected in the mirror. The giant was bedazzled.

He dropped his hands. "It is fit for a king," he grunted. "I shall not wear it until day after tomorrow when I marry the Fairy Queen. Then I will be a king and this stone will dazzle all who see me.

"In the meantime I shall wear the ruby as a ring for it fits my finger as well as my neck."

BILLY'S HEART sank. He crouched behind the chair and wondered what would happen if the giant did not wear the necklace around his throat as he was supposed to do. Would its magic still work?

Goko slipped the ruby on his finger. Instantly he began to jump up and down and howl with pain. He threw his arms around trying to shake off the ring. He tore at it with his free hand and chewed at it with his teeth. The ring squeezed tighter.

The giant screamed and kicked savagely at the furniture. His boot struck the chair where Billy was hiding. The chair tumbled away and there was Billy crouched on his heels.

The giant stared in astonishment. He forgot the pain in his finger. "Who are you? Where did you come from?" he roared.

Billy got to his feet and pulled out his wooden sword. "I am Billy the Giant Fighter," he said. He hoped the giant wouldn't notice the tremor in his voice.

"Do you think you can destroy Goko with a toy sword?"

GOKO blinked. He thought of his giants who had let the boy slip in. He shouted furiously, "Guards! Guards!"

"No use calling," said Billy. "Your guards have turned into pigs. No one can help you now!"

Then he lunged at the giant with his sword. He struck Goko on the breast but though the aim was true and the blow well struck the giant was unharmed. Against such a mammoth the wooden sword was as useless as the feather of a goose.

When the giant saw this he shouted. "You think you can destroy Goko the Great with a toy sword? We shall see!"

He snatched up his club and slammed it down on his finger. The ruby stoned ring burst apart and his finger was free.

"Now where will your magic get you?" snarled the giant and he struck out at the boy. Billy ducked under the swinging club and fled from the room. He raced through the corridors and climbed the winding stairs. He could hear Goko stamping after him laughing and thumping his club.

—:—

HE CAME to a door at the top of the topmost stair. Gasping with terror he burst into the room and there he found the Fairy Queen.

"You've come!" she cried. "Oh, you've come at last!"

Billy threw himself in her arms. "It's no use," he sobbed. "My sword was just a toy and I'm not a giant fighter at all."

"Let me have your sword," said the Queen gently.

He gave it to her and she pressed it softly to her lips.

"There," she said, giving it back. "It's not a toy anymore."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I just read about the lady who said she froze her angel food cake so she could cut it in nice slices. Tell her just to try using her electric knife . . .

She can get perfect slices, even from a very fresh cake.
MRS. J. CORDER.

Who would ever have thunk it? It really works!
HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you freeze water in a large milk carton for 24 hours, it will have an "unfrozen" center filled with water. Remove the carton, puncture and drain the water out of the soft center without breaking the ice.

Refill the center with colored water or bits of canned fruit—and rewrap the ice block with foil and freeze solidly.

MRS. CLYDE RICHARDSON.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: If people who have changed their address, would put their new address on their Christmas cards (as well as the envelopes) . . . they would hear from more people at Christmas time.
MRS. STUBBLEFIELD.

DEAR HELOISE: If you or your daughters like pill box hats and can't afford a new one, I found a way to make them for almost nothing!

Cut the bottom off a plastic bleach jug about 2½ inches high. This makes the base for a darling pill box hat. Then cover this base with scraps of material by gluing them on.

Add bits of netting, lace, flowers and a hat band. Holes can be punched in the plastic to attach decorations and hat band.

You have a new pill box hat that cost so little.

I made several in different colors to match my dresses.
HELEN BISHOP.

DEAR HELOISE: To dry toddlers pajamas thoroughly they should be turned inside out, especially those with plastic soles. Otherwise the pajamas may feel dry but be damp under the plastic sole.

This should be done even when the pajamas are dried in dryers.
MILDRED McKENZIE.

DEAR HELOISE: Discarded Christmas card boxes with the clear plastic tops can be utilized as cute cookie gift containers.

The paper bottom part can be covered with adhesive-backed paper. After cookies are packed in the box, a piece of clear plastic wrap covers the top and the plastic cover is placed back in place.

Small containers of homemade cookies or candy are always welcome on visits to hospitals, homes and at church bazaars.
W.M. SOKOL.

DEAR HELOISE: Men who use kits for their shaving gear and toilet articles will find that lining the bottom of it with paper towels will help absorb the moisture of articles placed therein.

The kits will hold up much longer and metal articles will not rust as quickly.
FRANK J. HAFNER.

DEAR HELOISE: I've got a good one for those who ruin their postage stamps.

My brother Mike always accepted my postage stamps that didn't have any glue on them.

He simply licked the flap of the envelope that he was using . . . carefully licked the stamp and rubbed it on the glued part of the envelope. He then pasted it on the envelope.

Instantly the once - ruined stamp becomes good again.

Cost me a few stamps to learn—but he will not get them any more—I'm going to use them.
R.M.

DEAR HELOISE: Attach notebook rings to the zipper tabs of your youngster's boots. This not only gives a better grip, but permits the boots to be hooked together at school.
MRS. JOHN HAGER.

150 Teen-Agers Plan Yule Party March For Policemen

By DON BANDY

CINCINNATI (AP) — About 150 Negro teen-agers are completing plans for a march on District 4 police station the day before Christmas. They're busily preparing placards.

But they won't be protesting anything.

They're planning a Christmas party—with gifts—for the 83 policemen in the district.

The Christmas march, the idea of Roger Tilford, a junior high school teacher, was to present the other side of Christmas . . . to put the kids on the giving end instead of the receiving end."

"We want to show the police we appreciate them," Tilford, 38, said.

The district is in a heavily populated Negro area of Cincinnati.

Some of the placards the youths are preparing read:

"Merry Christmas to the No. 1 police department in the nation."

Upon reaching the station there will be Christmas carols and presentation of gifts to the policemen. Parents of the youngsters have pooled trading stamps to purchase a coffee maker, a radio and door mats for the station.

Businessmen in the area have joined in with donations. The youths themselves chipped in their allowances.

Tilford said he thought it would be a "good gesture for the police and also bridge the chasm between teen-agers and the police department."

Hunt For Plane Concentrated On Oil Slick, Debris

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Coast Guard boats and helicopters which have been hunting since Monday for a small plane believed to have crashed in Lake Erie concentrated the search today on a spot north of Fairport Harbor where an oil slick and debris have been discovered.

A Coast Guard cutter reported Wednesday night the finding of the "bubbling oil slick" and pieces of fiberboard insulating material floating on the lake's surface 17½ miles offshore.

The Cessna airplane registered to Anthony Farinacci, 32, a Lake County trucking executive, has been missing since late Monday night, when it took off from Erie, Pa., apparently en route to Cleveland. Three other persons were thought to be aboard.

Officials at Port Erie Airport said a radio distress call was heard,then the plane disappeared from their radar scopes.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By Lucrece Beale

Billy drops the ghost tears in the soup and the giants turn into pigs. The magic potion will not work on Goko, so Billy places the ruby necklace where the giant will find it.

"Do you think you can destroy Goko with a toy sword?"

CHAPTER 16

Goko looked at himself in the mirror over the fireplace. He reached up to fasten the ruby necklace around his throat. The fire of the ruby was reflected in the mirror. The giant was bedazzled.

He dropped his hands. "It is fit for a king," he grunted. "I shall not wear it until day after tomorrow when I marry the Fairy Queen. Then I will be a king and this stone will dazzle all who see me.

"In the meantime I shall wear the ruby as a ring for it fits my finger as well as my neck."

BILLY'S HEART sank. He crouched behind the chair and wondered what would happen if the giant did not wear the necklace around his throat as he was supposed to do. Would its magic still work?

Goko slipped the ruby on his finger. Instantly he began to jump up and down and howl with pain. He threw his arms around trying to shake off the ring. He tore at it with his free hand and chewed at it with his teeth. The ring squeezed tighter.

The giant screamed and kicked savagely at the furniture. His boot struck the chair where Billy was hiding. The chair tumbled away and there was Billy crouched on his heels.

The giant stared in astonishment. He forgot the pain in his finger. "Who are you? Where did you come from?" he roared.

Billy got to his feet and pulled out his wooden sword. "I am Billy the Giant Fighter," he said. He hoped the giant wouldn't notice the tremor in his voice.

GOKO blinked. He thought of his giants who had let the boy slip in. He shouted furiously, "Guards! Guards!"

"No use calling," said Billy. "Your guards have turned into pigs. No one can help you now!"

Then he lunged at the giant with his sword. He struck Goko on the breast but though the aim was true and the blow well struck the giant was unharmed. Against such a mammoth the wooden sword was as useless as the feather of a goose.

When the giant saw this he shouted, "You think you can destroy Goko the Great with a toy sword? We shall see!"

He snatched up his club and slammed it down on his finger. The ruby stoned ring burst apart and his finger was free.

"Now where will your magic get you?" snarled the giant and he struck out at the boy. Billy ducked under the swinging club and fled from the room. He raced through the corridors and climbed the winding stairs. He could hear Goko stamping after him laughing and thumping his club.

—:—

HE CAME to a door at the top of the topmost stair. Gasping with terror he burst into the room and there he found the Fairy Queen.

"You've come!" she cried. "Oh, you've come at last!"

Billy threw himself in her arms. "It's no use," he sobbed. "My sword was just a toy and I'm not a giant fighter at all."

"Let me have your sword," said the Queen gently.

He gave it to her and she pressed it softly to her lips.

"There," she said, giving it back. "It's not a toy anymore."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I just read about the lady who said she froze her angel food cake so she could cut it in nice slices. Tell her just to try using her electric knife . . .

She can get perfect slices, even from a very fresh cake.

MRS. J. CORDER

Who would ever have thunk it? It really works!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you freeze water in a large milk carton for 24 hours, it will have an "unfrozen" center filled with water. Remove the carton, puncture and drain the water out of the soft center without breaking the ice.

Refill the center with colored water or bits of canned fruit—and rewrap the ice block with foil and freeze solidly.

MRS. CLYDE RICHARDSON.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: If people who have changed their address, would put their new address on their Christmas cards (as well as the envelopes) . . . they would hear from more people at Christmas time.

MRS. STUBBLEFIELD.

DEAR HELOISE: If you or your daughters like pill box hats and can't afford a new one, I found a way to make them for almost nothing!

Cut the bottom off a plastic bleach jug about 2½ inches high. This makes the base for a darling pill box hat. Then cover this base with scraps of material by gluing them on.

Add bits of netting, lace, flowers and a hat band. Holes can be punched in the plastic to attach decorations and hat band.

You have a new pill box hat that cost so little.

I made several in different colors to match my dresses.

HELEN BISHOP.

DEAR HELOISE: To dry toddlers pajamas thoroughly they should be turned inside out, especially those with plastic soles. Otherwise the pajamas may feel dry but be damp under the plastic sole.

This should be done even when the pajamas are dried in dryers.

DEAR HELOISE: Discarded Christmas card boxes with the clear plastic tops can be utilized as cute cookie gift containers.

The paper bottom part can be covered with adhesive-backed paper. After cookies are packed in the box, a piece of clear plastic wrap covers the top and the plastic cover is placed back in place.

Small containers of homemade cookies or candy are always welcome on visits to hospitals, homes and at church bazaars.

W.M. SOKOL.

DEAR HELOISE: Men who use kits for their shaving gear and toilet articles will find that lining the bottom of it with paper towels will help absorb the moisture of articles placed therein.

The kits will hold up much longer and metal articles will not rust as quickly.

FRANK J. HAFNER.

DEAR HELOISE: I've got a good one for those who ruin their postage stamps.

My brother Mike always accepted my postage stamps that didn't have any glue on them.

He simply licked the flap of the envelope that he was using . . . carefully licked the stamp and rubbed it on the glued part of the envelope. He then pasted it on the envelope.

Instantly the once - ruined stamp becomes good again.

Cost me a few stamps to learn—but he will not get them any more—I'm going to use them.

R.M.

DEAR HELOISE: Attach notebook rings to the zipper tabs of your youngster's boots. This not only gives a better grip, but permits the boots to be hooked together at school.

MRS. JOHN HAGER.

150 Teen-Agers Plan Yule Party March For Policemen

By DON BANDY

CINCINNATI (AP) — About 150 Negro teen-agers are completing plans for a march on District 4 police station the day before Christmas. They're busily preparing placards.

But they won't be protesting anything.

They're planning a Christmas party—with gifts—for the 83 policemen in the district.

The Christmas march, the idea of Roger Tilford, a junior high school teacher, was to present the other side of Christmas . . . to put the kids on the giving end instead of the receiving end."

"We want to show the police we appreciate them," Tilford, 38, said.

The district is in a heavily populated Negro area of Cincinnati.

Some of the placards the youths are preparing read:

"Santa Claus is dependable one day a year—but District 4 is dependable 365 days a year."

Upon reaching the station there will be Christmas carols and presentation of gifts to the policemen. Parents of the youngsters have pooled trading stamps to purchase a coffee maker, a radio and door mats for the station.

Businessmen in the area have joined in with donations. The youths themselves chipped in their allowances.

Tilford said he thought it would be a "good gesture for the police and also bridge the chasm between teen-agers and the police department."

Hunt For Plane Concentrated On Oil Slick, Debris

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Coast Guard boats and helicopters which have been hunting since Monday for a small plane believed to have crashed in Lake Erie concentrated the search today on a spot north of Fairport Harbor where an oil slick and debris have been discovered.

A Coast Guard cutter reported Wednesday night the finding of the "bubbling oil slick" and pieces of fiberboard insulating material floating on the lake's surface 17½ miles offshore.

The Cessna airplane registered to Anthony Farinacci, 32, a Lake County trucking executive, has been missing since late Monday night, when it took off from Erie, Pa., apparently en route to Cleveland. Three other persons were thought to be aboard.

Officials at Port Erie Airport said a radio distress call was heard,then the plane disappeared from their radar scopes.

Dr. Washington Sheffield, a Connecticut dentist, first packaged toothpaste in a metal tube in 1892.

Junior Editors Quiz on GRAVITY

QUESTION: Which falls faster, an iron ball or a feather?

ANSWER: We know that gravity pulls objects toward the earth's center. For that reason, we might conclude that the heavier ball would fall faster, because there was more gravity pulling on it. Futhermore, in (1) John has released a coin and a sheet of paper at the same time and the heavier coin is falling faster. Ancient thinkers thus believed that heavier objects fell faster because they were heavier. But this idea was challenged by the Italian astronomer Galileo, who reasoned that the resistance of the air was what made objects fall at different speeds. In (2) John has bunched up the same paper into a tight ball; now it is falling almost as fast as the coin, because there is less air resistance than before. When, in 1650, a pump was invented to draw the air out of a tube, it was found that in such a vacuum a ball or a feather or any other object would fall at the same speed. To sum up; in the air, the iron ball would fall faster than the feather, but in a vacuum, the two would fall side by side.

FOR YOU TO DO: Find a bit of flat metal and cut a piece of cardboard the same size; drop them together. The metal falls faster—because air resistance works the most on objects which are light for their size.

Vincent Mandina of Council Bluffs, Iowa, wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Dec. 22, the 356th day of 1966. There are 9 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1944, German panzer units isolated and demanded the surrender of the 101st Airborne Division in Belgium. The temporary commander of the 101st, Gen. Anthony McAuliffe, gave his famous reply: "Nuts."

On this date:

In 1807, Congress passed the Embargo Act, prohibiting all foreign commerce and forbidding all foreign vessels to sail from U.S. ports.

In 1894, French Capt. Alfred Dreyfus was publicly degraded on a charge of selling French military secrets to the Germans. He later was exonerated.

Ten years ago—full-scale Anglo-French troop withdrawals from Egypt's Suez Canal Zone were completed. A United Nations emergency force then took area.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan issued a joint communique at the end of a two-day conference in Hamilton, Bermuda. The communique said the Bermuda talks would form the basis for continued cooperation between the United States and Britain during the coming months on a great variety of questions.

One year ago — The United States and South Vietnam ordered a 30-hour Christmas truce. The Allies, however, kept their troops on alert in the South Vietnamese war zones.

Junior Editors Quiz on GRAVITY

QUESTION: Which falls faster, an iron ball or a feather?

ANSWER: We know that gravity pulls objects toward the earth's center. For that reason, we might conclude that the heavier ball would fall faster, because there was more gravity pulling on it. Futhermore, in (1) John has released a coin and a sheet of paper at the same time and the heavier coin is falling faster. Ancient thinkers thus believed that heavier objects fell faster because they were heavier. But this idea was challenged by the Italian astronomer Galileo, who reasoned that the resistance of the air was what made objects fall at different speeds. In (2) John has bunched up the same paper into a tight ball; now it is falling almost as fast as the coin, because there is less air resistance than before. When, in 1650, a pump was invented to draw the air out of a tube, it was found that in such a vacuum a ball or a feather or any other object would fall at the same speed. To sum up; in the air, the iron ball would fall faster than the feather, but in a vacuum, the two would fall side by side.

FOR YOU TO DO: Find a bit of flat metal and cut a piece of cardboard the same size; drop them together. The metal falls faster—because air resistance works the most on objects which are light for their size.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Dec. 22, the 356th day of 1966. There are 9 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1944, German panzer units isolated and demanded the surrender of the 101st Airborne Division in Belgium. The temporary commander of the 101st, Gen. Anthony McAuliffe, gave his famous reply: "Nuts."

On this date:

In 1807, Congress passed the Embargo Act, prohibiting all foreign commerce and forbidding all foreign vessels to sail from U.S. ports.

In 1894, French Capt. Alfred Dreyfus was publicly degraded on a charge of selling French military secrets to the Germans. He later was exonerated.

Ten years ago—full-scale Anglo-French troop withdrawals from Egypt's Suez Canal Zone were completed. A United Nations emergency force then took area.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan issued a joint communique at the end of a two-day conference in Hamilton, Bermuda. The communique said the Bermuda talks would form the basis for continued cooperation between the United States and Britain during the coming months on a great variety of questions.

One year ago — The United States and South Vietnam ordered a 30-hour Christmas truce. The Allies, however, kept their troops on alert in the South Vietnamese war zones.
